THE General Conference of 1852, at its session of May 20, passed the following resolution, (Journal of General Conference, 1852, page 62,) :—

“Resolved, That the Book-agents at New-York be, and they hereby are directed to publish the Journals of the General Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church, from 1800 to 1836 inclusive.”

And on a subsequent day (May 25, Journal page 81) the conference passed the following :—

“Resolved, That the conference order the Book-agents to prefix to the volume of Minutes of the General Conference all the extant minutes from the organization of the Church up to 1800.”

The first resolution is fully obeyed in the present volume, which contains the Minutes of all the General Conferences from 1796 to 1836 inclusive.

The second resolution is understood to apply to Minutes of the General Conferences only. Up to the year 1792 the Church business had been conducted in the annual conferences, the minutes of which are printed in the bound minutes, (so called) always kept on sale at 200 Mulberry-street. The Christmas Conference of 1784, at which the Church was fully organized, may indeed be considered as a General Conference, but I can find no minutes of its session except those printed in the set above mentioned (Vol. 1, page 21) as part of the "Minutes of the Annual Conference for 1785." A full account of the doings of the conference, with the Discipline ordained by it, may be found in Bangs' "History of the Methodist Episcopal Church," (vol 1, pp. 151 218.)

The Minutes of the General Conference for 1792 were never printed to my knowledge, nor can I find the original copy. Those of 1796 were published in a compendium form which is now reprinted.

OF THE

GENERAL CONFERENCE OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

BEGUN AT BALTIMORE ON THE 20TH OF OCTOBER, 1796, AT

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES.

MOST BELOVED BRETHREN,—We present to you in a separate tract from our form of discipline the result of our deliberations, as an appendix to the form, which may be either bound or kept with it. We can truly say, that we have been fearful of making alterations. We have made none which we do not believe to be highly necessary, or evidently useful. We have also added, as briefly as may be, our principal reasons for every minute. Our grand object is to raise and preserve a holy and united people. Holiness is our aim; and we pay no regard to numbers, but in proportion as they possess the genuine principles of vital religion.

We think we have been as cautious as the nature of our case will admit, to prevent hasty innovations. We have, therefore, on a former occasion, confined solely to the General Conference the work of revising our form of discipline, reserving for the yearly conferences the common business of the connexion, as directed by the form. Our General Conference is held once only in four years, and it is open to every preacher in full connexion. Every such preacher has, therefore, ample time to weigh every subject of importance, to consult upon it with all his friends, and to be present at the General Conference, to give his vote, as well as declare his sentiments at large. Or he may deliver his thoughts, in confidence, to one or more of his brethren, who intend to be present. For in our General Conference we have, in some degree, a representation of our ministry in every state.

We have no view, brethren, in anything we do, but your spiritual and eternal happiness, and the enlargement of the kingdom of God. But we are very fallible creatures, liable continually to err; and therefore we want, and earnestly entreat you to grant us, your frequent and fervent prayers, that the Lord, by his divine grace, may keep us from error; or when we do err, may, by his providence and almighty power, prevent those evils which our mistakes might otherwise produce.

We are your affectionate brethren,
THE GENERAL CONFERENCE.

Signed in behalf, and by order of the Conference,

T. COKE,
F. ASBURY.

THE ADDRESS OF THE BRITISH CONFERENCE TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE OF THE PEOPLE CALLED METH-ODISTS, IN AMERICA.

LONDON, August 1, 1796.

DEARLY BELOVED BRETHREN,—With real pleasure we embrace the present opportunity, by means of our highly respected brother, the Rev. Dr. Coke, of greeting you, in the name of our common Lord, and of convincing you that we still remember you in love, and have your peace and prosperity greatly at heart.

A. D.
1796.

Address of the British Conference.

When we consider the Church of Christ as one body, composed of true believers over the whole earth, animated by one spirit, and hastening to one glorious kingdom, to spend eternity together, we cannot but lament the discord and divisions which have been made by means of the god of this world among the professors of Christianity.

To say nothing of the dreadful effects of persecution, the principles of which we sincerely detest, we grieve to observe the mischievous consequences of bigotry and party rage.

We hope there is a more liberal spirit gone forth, and that the period is swiftly approaching, when universal love will unite all the members of Christ's mystical body, and put an end to strife and confusion.

We are influenced thus to hope, from the conduct of infinite wisdom, in choosing instruments to carry on his work, so much resembling those our blessed Saviour chose to propagate primitive Christianity.

In the mean time we see it our indispensable duty to guard against the spirit of lukewarmness and infidelity, which, under the appearance of candour and liberality, is doing irreparable mischief to pure religion, by aggrandizing human reason, feeding the vanity of the carnal mind, and increasing a criminal conformity to the world.

We see an absolute necessity of strictly adhering to our first principles, by firmly maintaining our original doctrines, and that plan and discipline which we have so long proved to be the very sinews of our body. Herein, we doubt not, you are like minded with us. We consider you a branch of the same root from which we sprung, and of which we can never think but with inexpressible gratitude.

You will rejoice to hear of our unanimity and increase. The more so, as on the death of our venerable father, Mr. Wesley, the contrary was feared by our friends, and wished for by our enemies. Glory be to God, we were never more united to each other, nor were our labours in general ever more owned by the Head of the Church.

We trust, dear brethren, that you will join us in frequently calling to mind our original design, and "walk by the same rule, and mind the same thing," namely, 'to save our own souls and those who hear us.

We congratulate you on the honour which our blessed Lord has put upon you, in crowning your endeavours with such amazing success, and blessing you with the enjoyment of civil and religious liberty, for which we also have great cause to be thankful.

May we still remember that, whatever differences may mark other denominations, we are eminently one body, actuated by one spirit, having one faith, one Lord, one baptism.

That the ever-blessed Jehovah, Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, may preside in all your assemblies, and continue to distinguish you by particular manifestations of his love, till we meet together in the peaceful mansions of unmixed and never-ending happiness, is the sincere and fervent prayer of,
Dearly beloved brethren,

Your truly affectionate brethren in Christ Jesus,

THE ENGLISH CONFERENCE.

Signed by order, and in behalf of the Conference,

THOS. TAYLOR, Pres.

SAMUEL BRADBURN, Sec.

Question 1. Are there any directions to be given concerning the yearly conferences?

A. D.

Answer. There shall be six conferences in the year, as follows, viz.:—

1. The New-England Conference—under the direction of which shall be the affairs of our Church in New-England, and in that part of the State of New-York which lies on the east side of Hudson's River: Provided, That if the bishops see it necessary, a conference may be held in the Province of Maine.

Boundaries of Conferences.

2. The Philadelphia Conference, for the direction of our concerns in the remainder of the State of New-York, in New-Jersey, in all that part of Pennsylvania which lies on the east side of the Susquehanna River, the State of Delaware, and all the rest of the peninsula.

3. The Baltimore Conference, for the remainder of Pennsylvania, the remainder of Maryland, and the Northern Neck of Virginia.

4. The Virginia Conference, for all that part of Virginia which lies on the south side of the Rappahannock River, and for all that part of North Carolina which lies on the north side of Cape Fear River, including also the circuits which are situated on the branches of the Yadkin.

5. The South Carolina Conference, for South Carolina, Georgia, and the remainder of North Carolina.

6. The Western Conference, for the States of Kentucky and Tennessee: Provided, That the bishops shall have authority to appoint other yearly conferences in the interval of the General Conference, if a sufficiency of new circuits be anywhere formed for that purpose.

N. B. For several years the annual conferences were very small, consisting only of the preachers of a single district, or of two or three very small ones. This was attended with many inconveniences:—1. There were but few of the senior preachers whose years and experience had matured their judgments, who could be present at any one conference. 2. The conferences wanted that dignity which every religious synod should possess, and which always accompanies a large assembly of gospel ministers. 3. The itinerant plan was exceedingly cramped, from the difficulty.

of removing preachers from one district to another. All these inconveniences will, we trust, be removed on the present plan; and at the same time the conferences are so arranged that all the members respectively may attend with little difficulty.

To all which may be added, that the active, zealous, unmarried preachers may move on a larger scale, and preach the ever-blessed gospel far more extensively through the sixteen states, and other parts of the continent; while the married preachers, whose circumstances require them, in many instances, to be more located than the single men, will have a considerable field of action opened to them; and also the bishops will be able to attend the conferences with greater ease, and without injury to their health.

Quest. 2. Who shall attend the yearly conferences?

Who constitute the Annual Conferences.

Ans. Those who are in full connexion, and who are to be received into full connexion.

N. B. This regulation is made that our societies and congregations may be supplied with preaching during the conferences. We would therefore wish to have a few of the travelling preachers among our dear flocks at those times. But as we desire to make the conferences as respectable and weighty as possible, we can spare none at those important seasons, except the preachers upon trial. They also will be absent from the yearly conferences only for one year, as they must be present on the second to be admitted into full connexion.

Quest. 3. What shall be done for the security of our preaching-houses, and the premises belonging thereto?

How churches are to be secured.

Ans. Let the following plan of a deed of settlement be brought into effect in all possible cases, and as far as the laws of the states respectively will admit of it, viz.:—

THIS INDENTURE, made this _____ day of _____ in the year of our Lord one thousand _____ hundred and _____ between _____ (if the grantor be married, insert the name of his wife) of the _____ in the State of _____ of the one part, and _____ trustees, in trust for the uses and purposes hereinafter mentioned, all of the in the State of _____ aforesaid, of the other part, WITNESSETH, that the said _____ (if married, insert the name of his wife) for and in consideration of the sum of _____ pounds, specie, to _____ in hand paid, at and upon the sealing and delivery of these presents, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, hath (or have) given, granted, bargained, sold, released, confirmed, and conveyed, and by these presents doth (or do) give, grant, bargain, sell, release, confirm, and convey unto them, the said _____ and their successors (trustees, in trust for the uses and purposes hereinafter mentioned and declared) all the estate, right, title, interest, property, claim, and demand whatsoever, either in law or equity, which he the said (if married, here insert the name of his wife) hath (or have) in, to, or upon all and singular a certain lot or piece of ground, situate, lying, and being in the and state aforesaid, bounded and butted as follows, to wit, (here insert the several courses and distances of the ground to the place of beginning,) containing and laid out for acres of ground, together with all and singular the houses, woods, waters, ways, privileges and appurtenances thereto belonging, or in anywise appertaining: To HAVE AND TO HOLD all and singular the above-mentioned and described lot or piece of ground, situate, lying, and being as aforesaid, together with all and singular the houses, woods, waters, ways, and privileges thereto belonging, or in anywise appertaining, unto them the said and their successors in office, forever, in trust, that they shall erect and build, or cause to be erected and built thereon, a house or place of worship, for the use of the members of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America, according to the rules and discipline which from time to time may be agreed upon and adopted by the ministers and preachers of the said Church, at their General Conferences in the United States of America; and in further trust and confidence that they shall at all times, forever hereafter, permit such ministers and preachers, belonging to the said Church, as shall from time to time be duly authorized by the General Conferences of the ministers and preachers of the said Methodist Episcopal Church, or by the yearly conferences authorized by the said General Conference, and none others, to preach and expound God's holy word therein; and in further trust and confidence, that as often as any one or more of the trustees hereinbefore mentioned shall die, or cease to be a member or members of the said Church, according to the rules and discipline as aforesaid, then and in such case it shall be the duty of the stationed minister or preacher (authorized as aforesaid) who shall have the pastoral charge of the members of the said Church, to call a meeting of the remaining trustees, as soon as conveniently may be; and when so met, the said minister or preacher shall proceed to nominate one or more persons to fill the place or places of him or them whose office or offices has (or have) been vacated as aforesaid. Provided, The person or persons so nominated shall have been one year a member or members of the said Church immediately preceding such nomination, and of at least twenty-one years of age; and the said trustees so assembled shall proceed to elect, and, by a majority of votes, appoint the person or persons so nominated to fill such vacancy or vacancies, in order to keep up the number of nine trustees forever; and in case of an equal number of votes for and against the said nominations, the stationed minister or preacher shall have the casting vote.

Provided nevertheless, That if the said trustees, or any of them, or their successors, have advanced, or shall advance, any sum or sums of money, or are or shall be responsible for any sum or sums of money, on account of the said premises, and they, the said trustees, or their successors, be obliged to pay the said sum or sums of money, they, or a majority of them, shall be authorized to raise the said sum or sums of money, by a mortgage on the said premises, or by selling the said premises, after notice given to the pastor or preacher who has the oversight of the congregation attending divine service on the said premises, if the money due be not paid to the said trustees, or their successors, within one year after such notice given: and if such sale take place, the said trustees, or their successors, after paying the debt and all other expenses which are due, from the money arising from such sale, shall deposit the remainder of the money produced by the said sale in the hands of the steward or stewards of the society belonging to, or attending divine service on the said premises; which surplus of the produce of such sale, so deposited in the hands of the said steward or stewards, shall be at the disposal of the next yearly conference, authorized as aforesaid; which said yearly conference shall dispose of the said money, according to the best of their judgment, for the use of the said society. And the said doth by these presents warrant and forever defend, all and singular the before-mentioned and described lot or piece of ground, with the appurtenances thereto belonging, unto them the said and their successors, chosen and appointed as aforesaid, from the claim or claims of him the said his heirs and assigns, and from the claim or claims of all persons whatever.

In testimony whereof, the said (if married, and seals, the day and year aforesaid.

County, ss.

A. D.
1796.

BE IT REMEMBERED, That on the day of _____ in the year of our Lord one thousand _____ personally appeared before me, one of the justices of the peace, in and for the county of _____ and state of _____ the within-named the grantor, (if married, insert the name of his wife,) and acknowledged the within deed of trust to be their act and deed, for the uses and purposes therein mentioned and declared; and she the said _____ wife of the said being separate and apart from her said husband, by me examined, declared that she made the same acknowledgment, freely and with her own consent, without being induced thereto through fear or threats of her said husband. In testimony whereof I have hereto set my hand and seal, the day and year first above written,

N. B. 1. It is necessary that all our deeds should be recorded after execution, for prudential as well as legal reasons.

2. Let nine trustees be appointed for preaching houses where proper persons can be procured; otherwise, seven or five.

3. The union of the Methodist Society through the States requires one general deed, for the settlement of our preaching houses and the premises belonging thereto. In the above plan of settlement we have given to the trustees an authority and security they never possessed by virtue of our former deeds, namely, the power of mortgaging or selling the premises in the cases and manner above mentioned. By which we manifest to the whole world, that the property of the preaching houses will not be invested in the General Conference. But the preservation of our union, and the progress of the work of God, indispensably require that the free and full use of the pulpit should be in the hands of the General Conference and the yearly conferences authorized by them. Of course, the travelling preachers who are in full connexion, assembled in their conferences, are the patrons of the pulpits of our churches. And this was absolutely necessary to give a clear, legal specification in the deed. If the local preachers, stewards, and leaders, (who have an undoubted right to preach, meet their classes, &c., in the preaching houses at due time, according to the form of discipline,) were specified, it would be necessary to add a description of their orders; which would throw such obscurity upon the whole, that a court of justice would either reject the deed, or be at a loss to determine concerning the little peculiarities of our form of discipline. But we do hereby publicly declare, that we have no design of limiting in the least degree the privileges of any of the public officers of our society, but by this deed solely intend to preserve the property of our Church by such a clear, simple specification as shall be fully and easily cognizable by the laws.

A. D.

Ques. 4. What shall be the time of probation of a travelling deacon for the office of an elder?

Qualification for Elder's orders.

Ans. Every travelling deacon shall exercise that office for two years, before he be eligible to the office of an elder; except in the case of missions, when the yearly conferences shall have authority to elect for the elder's office sooner, if they judge it expedient.

N. B. We would wish to show the utmost attention to the order of elders, and to have the fullest proof of the abilities, grace, and usefulness of those who shall be from time to time proposed for so important an office as that of a presbyter in the Church of God. And we judge that the man who has proved himself a worthy member of our society, and a useful class-leader, exhorter, and local preacher, who has been approved of for two years as a travelling preacher on trial, and has faithfully served in the office of a travelling deacon for at least two years more, has offered such proofs of fidelity and piety as must satisfy every reasonable mind. But as this continent is exceedingly large, and will continually open to our conferences new missions for the spread of the gospel, (perhaps for ages to come,) we have in the case of missions given a discretionary power to the yearly conferences.

Ques. 5. In what manner shall the account of the general book-steward be examined?

Auditing committee of general book-steward's accounts.

Ans. The Philadelphia Conference shall, from year to year, appoint a committee, who shall examine quarterly his receipts and disbursements, and other accounts.

Ques. 6. What mode shall be struck out for the recovery of bad or suspected book-debts?

Ans. 1. Let every yearly conference appoint a committee or committees for the examination of the accounts of the travelling book-stewards in their respective districts.

2. Let every presiding elder, and every preacher who has the oversight of a circuit, do everything in their power to recover all the debts in their circuit or district, and also all books which may remain in the hands of persons who shall have resigned, or been withdrawn from the office of a travelling book-steward.

Ques. 7. Shall any drafts be made on the book-fund before all its debts are discharged?

Ans. There shall be none till the debts are discharged, except in the cases of distressed travelling preachers.

A. D.

Ques. 8. What directions shall be given concerning the regulation of our press?

Ans. The general book-steward shall print no books or tracts of any kind without the consent of a bishop and two-thirds of the Philadelphia Conference.

Regulation
the press.

Ques. 9. Will the Conference recommend, and engage to promote the publication of a magazine entitled The Methodist Magazine, which shall consist of compilations from the British magazines, and of original accounts of the experiences of pious persons, and shall be published in monthly numbers?

Ans. The Conference will recommend such a magazine, and desire that it may be printed.

The Methodist
ommended.

N. B. The propagation of religious knowledge by the means of the press is next in importance to the preaching of the gospel. To supply the people therefore with the most pious and useful books, in order that they may fill up their leisure hours in the most profitable ways, is an object worthy the deepest attention of their pastors. On this account we are determined to move in the most cautious manner in respect to our publications. We have a great esteem for our general book-steward, and are much obliged to him for his fidelity and usefulness in his important office; but we shall in future submit our publications to the judgment of no single person. The books of infidelity and profaneness with which the States at present abound demand our strongest exertions to counteract their pernicious influence: and every step shall be taken, which is consistent with our finances, to furnish our friends from time to time with the most useful treatises on every branch of religious knowledge. And the consideration, that all the profits shall be lodged in our chartered fund for the benefit of the distressed preachers, both travelling and superannuated, will, we trust, prove a considerable additional inducement to our brethren to purchase our books.

Ques. 10. What directions shall we give concerning the education of youth?

Ans. Let the following address and regulations be printed in our Minutes, viz:—

THE PLAN OF EDUCATION RECOMMENDED TO ALL OUR SEMINARIES OF LEARNING.

To the Public, and to the Members of our Society in particular.

The first object we recommend is to form the minds of the youth, through divine aid, to wisdom and holiness; instilling into their tender minds the principles of true re-

Plan of education for seminaries of learning.

A. D.

ligion, speculative, experimental, and practical, and training them in the ancient way, that they may be rational, Scriptural Christians. For this purpose we recommend that not only the masters, but also our elders, deacons, and preachers, embrace every opportunity of instructing the students in the great branches of the Christian religion.

It is also our particular desire, that all who shall be educated in Methodist seminaries, be kept at the utmost distance as from vice in general, so in particular from softness and effeminacy of manners.

The masters, therefore, should inflexibly insist on their rising early in the morning; and we are convinced by constant observation and experience, that this is of vast importance both to body and mind. It is of admirable use, either for preserving a good or improving a bad constitution. It is of peculiar service in all nervous complaints, both in preventing and removing them. And by thus strengthening the various organs of the body, it enables the mind to put forth its utmost exertions.

On the same principle the masters should prohibit play in the strongest terms; and in this we have the two greatest writers on the subject that perhaps any age has produced—Mr. Locke and M. Rousseau—of our sentiments; for though the latter was essentially mistaken in his religious system, yet his wisdom in other respects, and extensive genius, are indisputably acknowledged. The employments which we would recommend for the recreation of the students, are such as are of the greatest public utility, agriculture and architecture—studies more especially necessary for a new-settled country; and, of consequence, the instructing of youth in all the practical branches of those important arts will be an effectual method of rendering them more useful to their country. Agreeably to this idea, the greatest statesman that perhaps ever shone in the annals of history, Peter, the Russian emperor, who was deservedly styled the Great, disdained not to stoop to the employment of a ship-carpenter. Nor was it rare, during the purest times of the Roman republic, to see the conquerors of nations and deliverers of their country return with all simplicity and cheerfulness to the exercise of the plough. In conformity to this sentiment, one of the completest poetic pieces of antiquity (the Georgics of Virgil) is written on the subject of husbandry; by the perusal of which, and submission to the above regulations, the students may delightfully unite the theory and the practice together. We say delightfully, for we are far from wishing that these employments should be turned into drudgery or slavery, but into pleasing recreations for the mind and body.

In teaching the languages, care should be taken to read those authors, and those only, who join together the purity, the strength, and the elegance of their several tongues. And the utmost caution should be used that nothing immodest should be found in any of their books.

But this is not all. We should take care that the books be not only inoffensive, but useful; that they contain as much strong sense, and as much genuine morality as possible. As far, therefore, as is consistent with the foregoing observations, a choice and universal library should be provided for the use of the students, according to their finances: and on this plan we trust that our seminaries of learning will, in time, send forth men who will be blessings to their country in every laudable office and employment of life, thereby uniting the two greatest ornaments of intelligent beings, which are too often separated—deep learning and genuine religion.

The rules and regulations with which you are here presented have been weighed and digested in our conferences, but we also submit them to your judgment:—

GENERAL RULES PROPOSED FOR THE METHODIST SEMINARIES OF LEARNING.

1. The students shall rise at five o'clock in the morning, summer and winter, at the ringing of a bell.

2. All the students shall assemble together at six o'clock, for public prayer, except in cases of sickness; and on any omission shall be responsible to the master.

3. From morning prayer till seven, they shall be allowed to recreate themselves as is hereafter directed.

4. At seven they shall breakfast.

5. From eight till twelve, they are to be closely kept to their respective studies.

6. From twelve to three, they are to employ themselves in recreation and dining—dinner to be ready at one o'clock.

7. From three till six, they are again to be kept closely to their studies.

8. At six they shall sup.

9. At seven there shall be public prayer.

10. From evening prayer till bedtime, they shall be allowed recreation.

11. They shall all be in bed at nine o'clock, without fail.

12. Their recreations shall be gardening, walking, riding, and bathing, without doors; and the carpenter's, joiner's, cabinet-maker's, or turner's business, within doors.

13. A large plot of land shall be appropriated for a garden, and a person skilled in gardening be appointed to overlook the students when employed in that recreation.

14. A convenient bath shall be made for bathing.

15. A master, or some proper person by him appointed, shall be always present at the time of bathing. Only one shall bathe at a time; and no one shall remain in the water above a minute.

16. No student shall be allowed to bathe in the river.

17. A taberna lignaria (place for working in wood) shall be provided on the premises, with all proper instruments and materials, and a skilful person be employed to overlook the students at this recreation.

18. The students shall be indulged with nothing which the world calls PLAY. Let this rule be observed with the strictest nicety; for those who play when they are young, will play when they are old.

19. Each student shall have a bed to himself, wherever he boards.

20. The students shall lie on mattresses, not on featherbeds, because we believe the mattresses to be more healthy.

21. The masters shall strictly examine, from time to time, whether those who board the students (if they board out of the seminary) comply with these rules as far as they concern them.

22. A skilful physician shall be engaged to attend the students on every emergency, that the parents may be fully assured that proper care shall be taken of the health of their children.

23. The bishops shall examine, by themselves or their delegates, into the progress of all the students in learning, every half year, or oftener if possible.

24. The elders, deacons, and preachers, as often as they visit the seminaries respectively, shall examine the students concerning their knowledge of God and religion.

25. The students shall be divided into proper classes for that purpose.

26. A pupil who has a total incapacity to attain learning, shall, after sufficient trial, be returned to his parents.

27. If a student be convicted of any open sin, he shall, for the first offence, be reprov'd in private; for the second offence, he shall be reprov'd in public; and for the third offence, he shall be punished at the discretion of the master.

28. Idleness, or any other fault, may be punished with confinement, according to the discretion of the master.

29. A convenient room shall be set apart as a place of confinement.

Ques. 11. What further provision shall be made for the distressed travelling preachers, for the families of travelling preachers, and for superannuated and worn-out preachers, and the widows and orphans of preachers?

Ans. There shall be a chartered fund, to be supported by the voluntary contributions of our friends; the principal stock of which shall be funded under the direction of trustees, and the interest applied, under the direction of the General Conference, according to the following regulations, viz.:—

the Chartered Fund.

1. THAT no sum, exceeding sixty-four dollars, shall in any one year be applied to the use of an itinerant, superannuated, or worn-out single preacher.

2. That no sum exceeding one hundred and twenty-eight dollars, in any one year, shall be applied to the use of any itinerant, superannuated, or worn-out married preacher.

3. That no sum exceeding sixty-four dollars, in any one year, shall be applied for the use of each widow of itinerant, superannuated, or worn-out preachers.

4. That no sum exceeding sixteen dollars shall be applied, in any one year, for the use of each child or orphan of itinerant, superannuated, or worn-out preachers.

5. That the elders, and those who have the oversight of circuits, shall be the collectors and receivers of subscriptions, &c., for this fund.

6. The money shall, if possible, be conveyed by bills of exchange, through the means of the post, to John Dickins, our general book-steward, in Philadelphia, who shall pay it to the trustees of the fund; otherwise it shall be brought to the ensuing yearly conference.

7. There shall be no money drawn out of the fund till the first day of August, 1798.

8. The interest shall then be divided into six parts, and each of the yearly conferences shall have authority to draw that sixth part out of the fund, according to the regulations before prescribed. And if in one or more conferences a part less than one-sixth be drawn out of the fund in any given year, then, in such case or cases, the other yearly conferences held in the same year shall have authority, if they judge it necessary, to draw out of the fund, according to the above regulations, such surplus of the interest, which has not been applied by the former conferences. And the bishops shall bring the necessary information of the state of the interest of the fund, respecting the year in question, from conference to conference.

9. The present stock of the preachers' fund shall be thrown into the chartered fund.

10. The produce of the sale of our books, after the book-debts are paid, and a sufficient capital is provided for carrying on the business, shall be regularly paid into the chartered fund.

11. But the annual subscriptions of the travelling preachers, to the preachers' fund, shall be reserved for extraordinary cases, which the chartered fund may not reach. And no travelling preacher shall have a vote in the disposal of the travelling preachers' annual subscription, unless he be himself an annual subscriber.

A. D.

12. The money subscribed for the chartered fund may be lodged, on proper securities, in the states respectively in which it has been subscribed, under the direction of deputies living in such states respectively: Provided, such securities and such deputies be proposed, as shall be approved of by the trustees in Philadelphia; and the stock in which it is proposed to lodge the money be sufficiently productive to give satisfaction to the trustees.

N. B. We need not be urgent on our benevolent friends to promote this great charity. Their own feelings, we well know, will sufficiently prevail when proper light is given them on the subject. Our brethren who have laboured on the mountains, on the western waters, and in the poorer circuits in general, have suffered unspeakable hardships, merely for the want of some established fund, in which the competent members of our society might safely lodge what their benevolent hearts would rejoice to give for the spread of the gospel. On the same account, many of our worn-out preachers, some of whom quickly consumed their strength by their great exertions for the salvation of souls, have been brought into deep distress; and the widows and orphans of our preachers have been sometimes reduced to extreme necessity, who might have lived in comfort, if not in affluence, enjoying the sweets of domestic life, if the preachers, who were the husbands on one hand, and the fathers on the other, had not loved their Redeemer better than wife or children, or life itself. And it is to be lamented, if possible, with tears of blood, that we have lost scores of our most able married ministers—men who, like good householders, could, upon all occasions, bring things new and old out of their treasury, but were obliged to retire from the general work, because they saw nothing before them for their wives and children, if they continued itinerants, but misery and ruin. But the present institution will, we trust, under the blessing of God, greatly relieve us in, if not entirely deliver us from, these mighty evils. For we have full confidence that the hearts of our friends will be engaged, and their hands stretched forth on this important occasion; and a provision will be made sufficient to preserve the objects of the charity from want, which is all that is aimed at or desired.

Rules respecting slavery,

Ques. 12. What regulations shall be made for the extirpation of the crying evil of African slavery?

Ans. 1. We declare, that we are more than ever convinced of the great evil of the African slavery which still exists in these United States; and do most earnestly recommend to the yearly conferences, quarterly meetings, and to those who have the oversight of districts and circuits, to be exceedingly cautious what persons they admit to official-stations in our Church; and, in the case of future admission to official stations, to require such security of those who hold slaves, for the emancipation of them, immediately or gradually, as the laws of the states respectively, and the circumstances of the case will admit. And we do fully authorize all the yearly conferences to make whatever regulations they judge proper, in the present case,*respecting the admission of persons to official stations in our Church.

A. D.

2. No slave-holder shall be received into society, till the preacher who has the oversight of the circuit has spoken to him freely and faithfully on the subject of slavery.

3. Every member of the society who sells a slave shall immediately, after full proof, be excluded the society. And if any member of our society purchase a slave, the ensuing quarterly meeting shall determine on the number of years in which the slave so purchased would work out the price of his purchase. And the person so purchasing shall, immediately after such determination, execute a legal instrument for the manumission of such slave, at the expiration of the term determined by the quarterly meeting. And in default of his executing such instrument of manumission, or on his refusal to submit his case to the judgment of the quarterly meeting, such member shall be excluded the society. Provided also, That in the case of a female slave, it shall be inserted in the aforesaid instrument of manumission, that all her children which shall be born during the years of her servitude, shall be free at the following times, namely, every female child at the age of twenty-one, and every male child at the age of twenty-five. Nevertheless, if the member of our society, executing the said instrument of manumission, judge it proper, he may fix the times of manumission of the children of the female slaves before mentioned, at an earlier age than that which is prescribed above.

4. The preachers and other members of our society are requested to consider the subject of negro slavery with deep attention, till the ensuing General Conference; and that they impart to the General Conference, through the medium of the yearly conferences or otherwise, any important thoughts upon the subject, that the conference may have full light, in order to take further steps toward the eradicating this enormous evil from that part of the Church of God to which they are united.

Ques. 13. As our beloved and respected British brethren have favoured us with an address, what return shall we make?

Ans. Let a copy of the following address be sent to the next British Conference by the hands of Dr. Coke, signed by the bishops, viz.:

A. D.
1796.TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE OF THE PEOPLE CALLED METHODISTS, IN GREAT BRITAIN.

BALTIMORE, NOV. 1, 1796.

Address to the British Conference.

FATHERS AND BRETHREN,—Dearly beloved in the Lord, we feel ourselves highly gratified by your kind remembrance of us, and with great satisfaction embrace the present opportunity, by Dr. Coke, of returning you our sincere thanks for your welcome address, and of assuring you of our unfeigned esteem and affection for you. Though a vast ocean divides us, we are intimately one with you in spirit, and frequently with much delight remember you in our prayers. We doubt not but we are remembered in yours, and we entreat also, through you, the fervent petitions of your dear flocks to the throne of grace in our behalf.

With you, beloved brethren, we deeply lament the increase of infidelity in the world. But it is no more than we have reason to expect from the sure word of prophecy. And we have full confidence, that through the exercise of one great prerogative of the Head of the Church, abundance of good will be brought out of this greatest of evils. The faithful will be made manifest, the reign of antichrist be put down by the infidels, who are the fittest instruments for the work, and the Church of God will eminently become the city set upon a hill—the salt of the earth, the light of the world.

There certainly is, as you observe, brethren, a liberal spirit gone forth into the Christian world, and bigotry and party rage daily lose ground. But the carelessness, and the contempt of the sacred writings, which more and more prevail, are perhaps as dangerous to individuals as the former. May we be able to steer between the rocks on both sides under the guidance of our heavenly Master!

We admire with you the method God is taking to beat down the pride of philosophy, even by choosing the foolish things of the world to confound the wise, and the weak things of the world to confound the things that are mighty; and this is agreeable to the method of God's proceedings in the purest times of Christianity. At the same time the Lord has not left us without men, who, when necessary, are able to contend against that vain philosophy with its own weapons of logical arguments, and with success; though we are sensible how far we are inferior to you, our elder brethren, in this respect.

We bless God that both we and our people highly esteem all the branches of the Methodist discipline; nor can we possibly be too thankful to our adorable Lord for that highly honoured instrument of his grace, your and our late father in the gospel, the Rev. John Wesley. We do trust, brethren, we shall with you persevere to walk by the same rules, and mind the same things.

We candidly confess to you, that we were very fearful when the Lord took that eminent man to his reward, that divisions would take place among you from the delicate circumstances in which you were placed. To us in general he was personally unknown, and acted only by his delegates. But you were honoured with his constant residence and useful labours. Among you he superintended for half a century, to the admiration, we had almost said, of the whole civilized world. But our God is infinitely kind to us all. He has preserved both you and us in a wonderful manner. We rejoice in your union; and can bless God that we were never more united than at present. A few indeed, who were as great enemies to the civil government under which they lived as to our discipline, have left us; and we have now not a jarring string among us. God has abundantly owned our feeble labours during this present conference to the people of Baltimore; and we trust it is an earnest of a glorious gospel-harvest through this continent in the ensuing and future years. At present you have the largest field of action in respect to the number of souls, but we are humbly endeavouring to sow those seeds of grace, which may grow up and spread in this immense country, which in ages to come will probably be the habitation of hundreds of millions.

We trust we shall never forget your kind advice, but shall always remember that the Methodist societies through the world are eminently called to be one body, and to be actuated by one spirit; and that we have but one faith, one Lord, and one baptism.

To you and our God we humbly recommend you, fathers and brethren. May his everlasting arms be ever beneath and around you; may his blessed Spirit overshadow you in all your conferences and in all your labours; and may that love which we mutually feel toward each other increase a hundred-fold, till we all meet in those realms of bliss where we shall see each other eye to eye, and, with the children God hath given us, live together in the completest union forever.

We subscribe ourselves, with great respect and esteem,

Your affectionate and younger brethren

In the gospel,

THE AMERICAN GENERAL CONFERENCE.

Quest. 14. What directions shall be given concerning our brethren the local preachers, in respect to their being received as preachers, or admitted into the order of deacons?

A. D.
1796.

Rules for licensing local preachers.

Ans. 1. No local preacher shall receive a license to preach till he has been examined and approved at the quarterly meeting of his circuit, which license shall be drawn up in the following words, viz. :—

“N. M. has applied to us for liberty to preach as a local preacher in our circuit; and after due inquiry concerning his gifts, grace, and usefulness, we judge he is a proper person to be licensed for this purpose; and we accordingly authorize him to preach.

“Signed in behalf of the quarterly meeting

“N. M.,” (viz., the President, Elder, or the Preacher who has the oversight of the circuit.)

2. Before any person shall be licensed as a local preacher by a quarterly meeting, he shall bring a recommendation from the society of which he is a member.

When local preachers may be eligible to deacon's orders.

3. A local preacher shall be eligible to the office of a deacon after he has preached for four years from the time he received a regular license, and has obtained the testimonial, which is directed in the fourth section of the first chapter of the form of discipline.

Ques. 15. Shall any regulations be made in respect to allowing a recompense to local preachers for their work in given cases?

Regulations respecting a recompense to local preachers.

Ans. 1. Whenever a local preacher fills the place of a travelling preacher, he shall be paid for his trouble a sum proportionable to the salary of a travelling preacher; which sum shall be paid by the circuit at the next quarterly meeting, if the travelling preacher whose place he filled up was either sick or necessarily absent; or, in other cases, out of the salary of the travelling preacher himself.

2. If a local preacher be distressed in his temporal circumstances on account of his service in the circuit, he may apply to the quarterly meeting, who may give him what relief they judge proper, after the salaries of the travelling preachers, and of their wives, and all other regular allowances to the travelling preachers, be discharged.

Directions concerning the trial of local preachers, deacons, or elders.

Ques. 17. What directions shall be given concerning the trial of local preachers, local deacons, or local elders?

Ans. If a charge be brought against a local preacher, or local deacon or elder, the preacher who has the oversight of the circuit shall summon three or more local preachers of the neighbourhood, or, for want of local preachers, so many leaders or exhorters. And if they, or a majority of them, on due examination, judge that the local preacher, deacon, or elder aforesaid, has been guilty of such a crime, or has preached such false doctrines as require his suspension from all public offices in our Church till the ensuing quarterly meeting, the preacher who has the oversight of the circuit, shall accordingly suspend him from all public offices till the ensuing quarterly meeting.

A. D.
1796.

And in such case, and in every case where a meeting, assembled as above described, shall deem the said local preacher, deacon, or elder, culpable, the next quarterly meeting shall proceed upon his trial, and shall have authority to clear, censure, suspend, or expel him, according to their judgment. And the president elder, or the preacher who has the oversight of the circuit, shall, at the commencement of the trial, appoint a secretary, who shall take down regular minutes of the evidence and proceedings of the trial, which minutes, when read and approved, shall be signed by the said president elder, or preacher, and also by the members of the said quarterly meeting, or by the majority of them.

Trial of Local Preachers.

And in case of condemnation, the local preacher, deacon, or elder, condemned, shall be allowed an appeal to the next yearly conference, provided that he signify to the said quarterly meeting his determination to appeal; in which case the said president elder, or preacher who has the oversight of the circuit, shall lay the minutes of the trial above mentioned before the said yearly conference, at which the local preacher, deacon, or elder, so appealing, may appear; and the said yearly conference shall judge and finally determine from the minutes of the said trial, so laid before them.

Appeal to the Annual Conference.

N. B. By this mode of trial we are desirous of showing the most tender regard toward our local brethren. We are all but men. The best of us may fall into sin, or be drawn into dangerous and pernicious errors; and it is sometimes necessary to stop the plague by an immediate stroke of discipline. But we would not have so important a character as that of one of our local brethren even touched to its disadvantage, by only one preacher, who possibly might be younger than the accused. We have therefore provided that a small meeting of respectable persons shall be held before a single step be taken in the business. The trial will then come before the most weighty assembly in the circuit.

We have directed the yearly conference, upon an appeal, to determine upon the merits of the cause from the memorial of the quarterly meeting, on account of the difficulty, if not impossibility, of bringing the necessary witnesses perhaps thirty, fifty, or a hundred miles from their home. Nor have we any right or authority to lay such a burden on any of our people. In short, we have done the best we can, according to the nature of the circumstances in which we are placed.

Ques. 18. Many of our people complain that our rules for the settling of differences, and for the preventing or punishing dishonest insolvencies and other frauds, are not sufficient: can any addition be made to them?

A. D.
1796.

Rule for the settlement of differences.

Ans. If, after the judgment of an arbitration be given, according to the regulation made in the 10th article of the 10th section of the first chapter of the form of discipline, and one of the parties be dissatisfied with the judgment given, such party may apply to the ensuing quarterly meeting of the circuit for allowance to have a second arbitration appointed; and if the quarterly meeting see sufficient reason, they shall grant a second arbitration; in which case each party shall choose two arbiters, and the four arbiters shall choose a fifth, the judgment of the majorities of whom shall be final; and any party refusing to abide by such judgment shall be excluded the society.

Fraud to be punished by expulsion.

2. The preachers who have the oversight of circuits are required to execute all our rules fully and strenuously against all frauds, and particularly against dishonest insolvencies; suffering none to remain in our society on any account who are found guilty of any fraud.

Ques. 19. An explication is desired by many in respect to our rule against the members of our society marrying unawakened persons. What further explication shall we give?

Members not to marry irreligious persons.

Ans. We do not prohibit our people from marrying persons who are not of our society, provided such persons have the form, and are seeking the power of godliness; but if they marry persons who do not come up to this description, we shall be obliged to purge our society of them. And even in a doubtful case, the member of our society shall be put back upon trial.

N. B. We are well assured, that few things have been more pernicious to the work of God than the marriage of the children of God with the children of this world. We therefore think ourselves obliged to bear our testimony, both in doctrine and discipline, against so great an evil. But as our former minute on this subject was not clear, we have added this explication, hoping that thereby the preachers who have the oversight of circuits will be easily enabled to determine on every point which may come before them, to the satisfaction of the truly pious, and to the prevention of a practice so exceedingly injurious to vital religion.

Ques. 20. What directions shall be given concerning the sale and use of spirituous liquors?

Sale and use of spirituous liquors.

Ans. If any member of our society retail or give spirituous liquors, and anything disorderly be transacted under his roof on this account, the preacher who has the oversight of the circuit shall proceed against him as in the case of other immoralities; and the person accused shall be cleared, censured, suspended or excluded, according to his conduct, as on other charges of immorality.

N. B. Far be it from us to wish or endeavour to intrude upon the proper religious or civil liberty of any of our people; but the retailing of spirituous liquors, and giving drams to customers, when they call at the stores, are such prevalent customs at present, and are productive of so many evils, that we judge it our indispensable duty to form a regulation against them. The cause of God, which we prefer to every other consideration under heaven, absolutely requires us to step forth with humble boldness in their respect.

Ques. 21. What directions shall be given concerning the salaries of the wives of travelling preachers?

Ans. The wife of every travelling preacher shall have the same claim to a yearly salary of sixty-four dollars as a travelling preacher.

Salaries of preachers'
wives.

Ques. 22. When and where shall our next General Conference be held?

Ans. In Baltimore, on the 20th of October, in the year 1800.

Time of next General Conference.

JOURNAL

OF THE

GENERAL CONFERENCE, 1800.

TUESDAY, MAY 6.

AFTER the opening of the Conference, Dr. Coke read the address from the British Conference, and explained the parts that related to himself respecting his return to Europe. He said that the address was not his own, and that he was not consulted concerning it: he would now place the decision of the case entirely with the General Conference, as he viewed himself as our servant.

May 6.

Address of British Conference.

The following rules were agreed upon for the order of the Conference:—

1. Any person speaking shall not be interrupted, except by the presidents, when they judge that he deviates too much from the point; nevertheless, an appeal may be made to the Conference by any two members from the presidents; but neither the Conference nor the presidents shall speak to the point, but simply take the vote.

Rules of Conference.

2. No person shall have liberty to speak above a quarter of an hour at a time, except with the permission of the Conference; but still the Conference shall grant or prohibit without debate.

3. If any person thinks himself misrepresented by a speaker he shall have a right to explain, in as few words as possible after the speaker has done.

4. No person shall speak oftener than three times on any question.

5. The sittings of Conference shall be from nine to twelve in the morning, and from three to six in the afternoon.

6. No question shall be proposed on a different subject from that under debate, until the question debated be decided or postponed.

7. A secretary shall be chosen by the Conference, who shall keep a regular journal of all the proceedings of the Conference; which journal shall be signed by the presidents, and countersigned by the secretary at the close of the Conference.

8. Nicholas Snethen is elected Secretary.

9. No motion shall be put, except by the presidents, unless it be first delivered at the table in writing, after being read by the mover and seconded.

10. No old rule shall be abolished, except by a majority of two-thirds.

11. No member of the Conference shall leave the city of Baltimore until the Conference adjourn, without first obtaining leave of absence.

12. No member shall leave the room to go into the city without leave.

13. The bishops are requested to arrange, and, from time, to lay before the Conference such business as they may judge expedient; provided the above regulation does not affect the ninth rule.

14. Any member shall have liberty to copy, at pleasure, any motion laid upon the table.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 7.

May 7.

Motion to approve the change in time of holding General Conference.

Brother Snethen moved—That whereas, the General Conference, held in the city of Baltimore A. D. 1796, did resolve that the following General Conference should meet in the said city of Baltimore upon the twentieth day of October, A. D. 1800; and whereas, the prevalence of a very malignant epidemic disorder, called the yellow fever, in Baltimore and other seaport towns, made it doubtful whether it would be possible for the said General Conference to meet at that season of the year; and whereas, Mr. Asbury did, by the advice of certain judicious friends, lay the case before the yearly conferences, and they likewise judged an alteration highly necessary, and did appoint the time of meeting (for the above reason only) to be Tuesday, the 6th day of May, A. D. 1800,

Resolved, That this General Conference, now met according to the above alteration and appointment, do unanimously approve of the said alteration, and ratify it accordingly.

Carried.

President Elders.

Brother Ormond moved, that the yearly conferences be authorized by this General Conference to nominate and elect their own president elders. Made the order of the day for Tuesday morning.

Dr. Coke's return to Europe.

Brother M'Claskey moved, that in compliance with the address of the British Conference, and request to us to let Dr. Coke return to Europe, this General Conference consent and agree to his return, upon condition that he come back to America as soon as his business will allow, but certainly by the next General Conference. Made the order of the day for this afternoon.

May 7.

A request being made that Mr. Asbury should let the Conference know what he had determined to do in future, he intimated that he did not know whether this General Conference were satisfied with his former services. A member proposed that a vote should be taken. The vote was objected to until a reason should be assigned for such suspicion. Mr. Asbury then rose, he said, to speak in his own behalf. His affliction, since the last General Conference, had been such that he had been under the necessity of having a colleague to travel with him; that his great debility had obliged him to locate several times, and that he could only travel in a carriage; and he did not know whether this General Conference, as a body, were satisfied with such parts of his conduct. Whereupon a motion was made by brother Ezek. Cooper, That this General Conference do resolve that they consider themselves under many and great obligations to Mr. Asbury, for the many and great services he has rendered to this connexion.

Communication of Mr. Asbury.

Secondly, That this General Conference do earnestly entreat a continuation of Mr. Asbury's services as one of the general superintendents of the Methodist Episcopal Church, as far as his strength will permit.

Agreed to, nem. con.

A letter from the Rev. Mr. Law to the General Conference, respecting church music, was referred to the Philadelphia Conference.

Church music.

Brother Burke moved, that this General Conference shall elect and ordain two bishops in addition to Mr. Asbury.

New bishops.

A motion in addition to the above was made by brother Tolleson, That whereas it appears that Mr. Asbury's strength will not admit of his travelling as extensively through the work as the situation of the connexion requires, that the General Conference do inquire whether any help ought to be afforded Mr. Asbury, and if any, what that help shall be.

Brother Bruce presented a package from the trustees of the Chartered Fund, containing a letter to the bishops and preachers in General Conference at Baltimore, extracts from the minutes of the proceedings of the trustees of the Chartered Fund, held by adjournment in Philadelphia, April 18, 1800—and general statements and accounts of the said fund.

Communication from trustees of Chartered Fund.

Lemuel Green and Henry Foxall were elected to serve in the said board of trustees, in the room of Jno. Dickins, deceased, and Cornelius Comeyges, resigned.

L. Green and H. Foxall elected trustees.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Debate on British Address.

The order of the day was called for, upon the subject of the British address relative to Dr. Coke. The subject was warmly debated, and postponed until Thursday morning.

Eighth section of Discipline.

Brother Mansfield moved, that this General Conference take into consideration the eighth section of the second chapter of the form of Discipline, and say what is the meaning thereof. Agreed to.

Provision for married preachers.

Brother Mansfield moved, that the local preachers be made eligible to the eldership. Withdrawn.

Dr. Coke moved, that on Friday morning the Conference take into consideration the provision for the married preachers. Agreed to.

Brother Bostwick moved, that as there have been complaints concerning the inequality of the rule respecting presents to the preachers, it be amended as follows: "No preacher shall receive any quarterage from any steward, until he first give an accurate account of all the presents he has received the quarter preceding. Superseded by brother Harris's motion.

Rule for presents to preachers to be struck out of the Discipline.

Brother Harris moved, that the rule respecting presents be struck out of the form of Discipline. A majority of two-thirds were in favour of the motion, consequently the rule is to be left out of the Discipline.

May 8.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 8.

Motion for a Delegated Conference.

Brother Folleson moved, that whereas much time has been lost, and will always be lost in the event of a General Conference being continued; and whereas the circuits are left without preachers for one, two, or three months, and other great inconveniences attend so many of the preachers leaving their work, and no real advantage arises therefrom,

Resolved, That instead of a General Conference we substitute a delegated one.

Negatived.

Address.

The business of the address was called up and debated all the forenoon.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

Dr. Coke to return to Europe.

The vote being called for on brother M'Claskey's motion, a large majority arose in favour of it. Dr. Coke is to return to Europe accordingly.

Book Agent's salary.

Brother M'Combs moved, that the agent of the book business be allowed no more than a travelling preacher. Voted out.

Assistance to Mr. Asbury.

The motion for assistance to be granted to Mr. Asbury was called up, and divided into two parts.

1st. Shall any assistance be given? Yes.

May 8.

2d. What shall that assistance be? In answer to this question, a very great majority appeared in favour of "one bishop, to be elected and ordained."

One bishop.

Brother Cooper moved, that the election of a bishop shall be by ballot, written, and put into a box or drawer: the highest upon the list shall be elected, provided there be a majority of all the votes of the Conference for him; but in case there be not a majority of the whole Conference for any one, then the Conference shall vote again, and choose by ballot from the four highest upon the list. If no one then have a majority of the whole Conference, they shall vote for the three highest of the four; and if neither of the three have a majority of the whole, the Conference shall vote for the two highest of the three. Agreed to.

Elected by ballot.

Brother Morrell moved, that Mr. Asbury be authorized by this General Conference to take with him an elder through any part or all his travels. Agreed to.

Travelling companion for Mr. Asbury.

Monday morning, May 12, is appointed for the election of the bishop.

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 9.

May 9.

Dr. Coke moved, that the new bishop, whenever he presides at an annual conference in the absence of Bishop Asbury, shall bring the stations of the preachers into the conference and read them, that he may hear what the conference has to say upon each station. Withdrawn next day.

Bishop to read stations to the Conference.

Brother Wells moved, that the new bishop, in stationing the preachers, be aided by a committee of not less than three, or more than four preachers, chosen by the conference. Voted out next day.

Bishop to have an advisory committee.

Brother M'Claskey moved, that whereas by a vote of the conference it is determined that another bishop shall be elected, Powers of the new bishop.

Resolved, That the Conference determine, before the votes be canvassed, the powers of the new bishop, whether he shall be equal to Bishop Asbury, or subordinate to him.

Withdrawn by consent.

Brother Follerson moved, that the annual salary of our preachers being very justly considered as too small—as almost every article of our consumption comes now at nearly fifty per cent. higher than when the salaries were fixed—

Salary of preachers to be raised to $80.

Resolved, 1st. That the salary be raised.

Carried, by a majority of five.

Resolved, 2d. That it be raised to eighty dollars.

Carried.

May 10.

SATURDAY MORNING, MAY 10.

Dr. Coke obtained leave to withdraw his motion respecting the new bishop's reading the stations in the conference.

Brother Wells's motion respecting the committee to assist the new bishop was voted out.

Conferences to

May 12.

Brother Ormond moved, that whereas the laws now in force in two or more of the United States pointedly prohibit the emancipation of slaves, and the third clause of the ninth section of the Discipline forbids the selling of slaves, it is evident that the members of the Methodist societies who own slaves, and remove themselves and families to another state, or to distant parts of the same state, and leave a husband or a wife behind, held in bondage by another person, part man and wife, which is a violation of the righteous laws of God, and contrary to the peace and happiness of families.

Motion to take up the slavery question.

And whereas, it is further observed that the rule now existing among us prevents our members increasing the number of their slaves by purchase, and tolerates an increase of number by birth, which children are often given to the enemies of the Methodists.

My mind being seriously impressed with these and several other considerations, I move,

That this General Conference take the momentous subject of slavery into consideration, and make such alterations in the old rule as may be thought proper.

Brother Folleson moved, that that part of the ninth section of the Discipline which requires the preachers to give an account of the moneys received as marriage fees be left out of the form of Discipline. Negatived.

Delegated General Conference.

Read the memorial of the New-York Conference to the General Conference, on the necessity of a delegated General Conference, in which the New-England, the Western, and the South Carolina Conferences concurred.

The Memorial of the New-York Conference to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, to sit in Baltimore, the sixth of May, 1808:

VERY DEAR BRETHREN,—We, as one of the seven eyes of the great and increasing body of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, which is composed of about five hundred travelling preachers and about two thousand local preachers, together with upward of one hundred and forty thousand members; these, with our numerous congregations and families, spread over an extent of country more than two ——— miles from one end to the other, amounting in all probability to more than one million of souls, which are, directly or remotely, under our pastoral oversight and ministerial charge,—should engage our most sacred attention, and should call into exertion all the wisdom and talents we are possessed of to perpetuate the unity and prosperity of the whole connexion, and to establish such regulations, rules, and forms of government as may, by the blessing of God in Jesus Christ, promote the cause of that religion which is more precious to us than riches, honour, or life itself, and be conducive to the salvation of souls among the generations yet unborn. The fields are white unto harvest before us, and the opening prospect of the great day of glory brightens continually in our view; and we are looking forward with hopeful expectations for the universal spread of Scriptural truth and holiness over the inhabitable globe. Brethren, for what have we laboured? for what have we suffered? for what have we borne the reproach of Christ, with much long-suffering, with tears, and with sorrow, but to serve the great and eternal purpose of the grace of God, in the present and everlasting felicity of immortal souls? When we take a serious and impartial view of this important subject, and consider the extent of our connexion, the number of our preachers, the great inconvenience, expense, and loss of time that must necessarily result from our present regulations, relative to our General Conference, we are deeply impressed with a thorough conviction that a representative or delegated General Conference, composed of a specific number on principles of equal representation from the several annual conferences, would be much more conducive to the prosperity and general unity of the whole body, than the present indefinite and numerous body of ministers, collected together unequally from the various conferences, to the great inconvenience of the ministry, and injury of the work of God. We therefore present unto you this memorial, requesting that you will adopt the principle of an equal representation from the annual conferences, to form, in future, a delegated General Conference, and that you will establish such rules and regulations as are necessary to carry the same into effect.

Memorial in favour of a Delegated General Conference.

As we are persuaded that our brethren in general, from a view of the situation and circumstances of the connexion, must be convinced, upon mature and impartial reflection, of the propriety and necessity of the measure, we forbear to enumerate the various reasons and arguments which might be urged in support of it. But we do hereby instruct, advise, and request every member who shall go from our conference to the General Conference to urge, if necessary, every reason and argument in favour of the principle, and to use all their Christian influence to have the same adopted and carried into effect.

And we also shall, and do invite and request our brethren in the several annual conferences which are to sit between this and the General Conference, to join and unite with us in the subject-matter of this memorial.

We do hereby candidly and openly express our opinion and wish, with the firmest attachment to the union and prosperity of the connexion, hoping and praying that our Chief Shepherd and Bishop of our souls, the Lord Jesus Christ, may direct you in all wisdom, righteousness, brotherly love, and Christian unity.

We are, dear brethren, in the bonds of gospel ties, most affectionately yours, &c.

By order and in behalf of the New-York Conference, without a dissenting vote.

(Signed,) FRANCIS WARD, Secretary.

Report of Committee of Review on Hymn-Book.

“Your Committee of Review, having progressed in examining the manuscript hymns laid before us, so far as to satisfy our own minds, report to the conference—

“First. That notwithstanding there are some terms which might be altered for the better, and some hymns that are injured by not retaining more of the original, yet, upon the whole, the hymns, in the judgment of the committee, are good, and would be of considerable advantage to our people if published in a separate volume, that those of them who have the former may be supplied with the latter, and that in future both may be united in one.

“Second. Your committee report further, that they do not think it would be for the interest of the Book Concern to publish the book of letters in the mass, yet that a selection from the whole might be made that would be useful.

“Third. They report further, that they conceive it would be proper for us to improve and be uniform in our singing, but, at the same time, they think that it would not be proper to take Mr. Evans's, or any other man's music-book under our patronage; yet, if the compiler thinks proper to publish the proposed collection of tunes at his own risk, we would recommend it to our societies in general as a work of merit, so far as we judge from the specimen.

On Music-book.

“Fourth. Your committee further report, that they have taken a cursory view of a manuscript entitled ‘A History of the Methodists in the United States of America;’ but as the work appears, in their view, more like a simple and crude narrative of the proceedings of the Methodists than a history, they think it would be improper to publish it.

On History of the Methodists.

“Your committee recommend to your serious consideration the propriety of introducing some rule to prevent improper publications in future, and to avoid, if possible, that contempt which is poured upon us as a people on account of improper publications, which are viewed by the public as under our patronage. Therefore,

On Improper publications.

Brother Ezekiel Cooper gave in his resignation as book agent, viz. :—

Resignation of Ezekiel Cooper as Book Agent.

I, Ezekiel Cooper, Editor and General Book-Steward, with affectionate and grateful emotions of heart, do hereby respectfully acknowledge to my brethren composing the General Conference, that the trust and confidence which they have reposed in me, as their editor and general book-steward, in the superintendence of their Book Concern, have and do most seriously and deeply affect my sensibility, so as to excite thankfulness to my brethren and a great reverence and humiliation before God, that I have been accounted capable and qualified to fill the station, and have been considered as worthy of trust and confidence in so important and interesting a department. And it is a matter of inexpressible delight that I can ingenuously declare to you, that I have, with conscientious rectitude, served the interests of the connexion with persevering integrity and fidelity, to the best of my ability ; and as our report to you will show, from a view of the stock account now rendered. I have served your interests successfully. And may I flatter myself that I have served you with acceptance, so far as to meet the testimony of your approbation? than which I do not know any temporary consideration that is capable of giving me a greater satisfaction and gratification.

When I engaged in this Concern in the spring of 1799, the whole amount of the clear capital stock, including debts and all manner of property, was not worth more than four thousand dollars, and I had not a single dollar of cash in hand, belonging to the connexion, to carry on the work, or to procure materials, or to pay a single demand against the Concern, which at that time was near three thousand dollars in debt. Under these circumstances, and thus situated, I engaged in the business with reluctance, fear, and trembling. I maintained and established the credit of the Concern by my own personal responsibility for contracts made, and the credit that I had in the confidence of those for whom I did business. Thus, with cautious steps and prudent forethought and calculations in business, I had to struggle and go on by night and day; and had, in certain cases, to advance my own cash to meet some of the demands against the Concern. In the course of the first year I got the business tolerably well under way, and by intense application, and great fatigue, got released from some embarrassments and perplexities; and the business appeared in a state of liberal prosperity.

May 24.
Resignation of
E. Cooper.

At the General Conference in 1804, the Concern had so far prospered that I could show a capital of about twenty-seven thousand dollars, which was clearing for the connexion about twenty-three thousand dollars in five years, from a capital of about four thousand, which was, when I received it, in a precarious and scattered situation. During which time of five years I had no help allowed me by the connexion, further than a small consideration of three hundred and thirty dollars and my board per year.

Four years ago, in 1804, the General Conference appointed brother John Wilson to assist in the business; since which time we have progressed upon the capital of about twenty-seven thousand dollars till this time, and now we show a capital of about forty-five thousand dollars, according to the report on your table. So that since the time I first engaged in the business, in 1799, till this time, being nine years, the capital stock has increased about elevenfold, which is more than a hundred per cent. per annum, or about eleven hundred per cent. in nine years, upon the original capital and stock of about four thousand dollars, besides the various appropriations to the conference and other purposes, as our ledger and day-book will show for.

And now, dear brethren, wishing all success to the connexion, and to the Book Concern, I hereby give you notice that it is my wish and purpose to be released from the agency in the Book Concern, and to retire from the responsibility and perplexities of the business. Therefore I decline being considered as a candidate for the editor or stewardship, wishing you may never have an agent to do you less service, nor to serve you with less acceptance, than I have done.

With great consideration, I am, dear brethren, in sentiments of good will, and ministerial affection, and Christian love,
Yours, respectfully,

EZEKIEL COOPER.

As it respects the instituting of a rule to fix the relation of our bishops other than that in which they now stand to the Church of God, we do not see our way clear to recommend such a measure: this much we would observe, that we conceive it to be a case in which our bishops should exercise their own discretion; and, should circumstances make it necessary for them to curtail their labours, it will be for the succeeding General Conference to approve of the same.

Amendment.

Met at three o'clock, agreeably to adjournment. After calling the list, the further consideration of the ninth paragraph of the report of the Book Committee was called up and it was confirmed. The whole report of the committee was read and approved, as follows :—

Report of Committee on Book Concern.

The committee to whom was referred the consideration of the Book Concern, having had that subject under consideration, beg leave to report :—

1. That the subject of brother Elijah R. Sabin's letter, relative to a difference between his account and that of the book-agent, &c., properly belongs to the New-England Conference to adjust and settle, where we recommend the reference of the whole business.

2. Your committee have had the book-agent's report and irregular statements, together with his explanations, under consideration. But, as the agent has not settled up his book, nor closed the various accounts, so as to ascertain the precise state of the Concern, and at present he cannot attend to it, and your committee have not time, if it were within the province of their duty, to go through the accounts, &c., &c.; therefore they cannot venture any opinion upon the real amount that the Concern is worth. They have so far examined the aggregate statements and got information as to items, valuations, entries, &c., from the agent, as to be of the opinion that the Concern, in its real value, will fall short of the amount stated. The agent is also satisfied as to this, and that the error is owing to an oversight in the valuation of some of the stock, and a mistake in some entries, &c. The agent may be disposed to explain on this head; however, your committee are of opinion that the Book Concern is in a state of prosperity.

3. The committee are of opinion that the book-agent should not print any book or books on his own private account, nor follow any other temporal business than what the interests and benefit of the Book Concern call for.

4. Your committee are of opinion that the present mode of allowing a profit for selling books at the discretion or option of the agent occasions considerable perplexities in calculating the various rates of per cent. on the different books, particularly in the division of profits between the presiding elders, preachers, &c.; besides, the present allowances are so various, in proportion to the valuation of the books, that it has a tendency to produce dissatisfaction as well as perplexity. Therefore your committee recommend, that there be a standing, uniform allowance to the preachers of eighteen per cent. discount from the retail prices in all books sold by them; that is, out of every hundred cents or dollar's worth sold, the seller to have eighteen and the Book Concern eighty-two, and so in proportion, more or less; one-third of which allowance, being six per cent., to belong to the presiding elder for his trouble and responsibility, and two-thirds, being twelve per cent., to belong to the preachers who sell the books.

5. Your committee are of opinion that it will be an advantage to the Concern if the agent be authorized to sell for cash any of our books to booksellers at such discount as, at his discretion, he may find to be proper and to the benefit of the Concern, provided he shall not allow a greater discount than is usual among booksellers; and in case of different orders for books that are scarce, or in high demand, the preachers' orders shall have the preference.

6. Your committee recommend that the book-agent be directed to resume the publication of the Methodist Magazine, two volumes being published; to commence publishing the third volume, at furthest, by January next.

7. Your committee are of opinion that the agent should be authorized to purchase the remaining volumes or sets of Dr. Coke's Commentary on the Old Testament now on hand.

8. Your committee advise that the book-agent be directed to bind a quantity of the first part of the Hymn-book, separate from the second part, to supply those who may wish it separate.

9. Your committee recommend that everything be left out of our Hymn-book that expresses or indicates that Evans's note or tune-book is to be a standard for the Methodist connexion.

10. Let the eighth advice to the third question, page thirty, be removed, and added to the eighth paragraph of page two hundred and ten.

11. Your committee recommend that there be two book-agents appointed to conduct the business and manage the Concern, the one to be editor, the other general book-steward.

12. Your committee have had under consideration the sundry propositions from the West, to carry on a branch of the book-business there, in printing, binding, &c.; but they do not apprehend that it would be of sufficient advantage to the Book Concern at present to render such a measure expedient.

L. Blackman moved, that the Book Concern be removed to and carried on in the city of Baltimore. Voted to lie on the table.

N. Bangs moved, that the book-steward and editor be elected first. The question was put and carried.

S. G. Roszel moved the reconsideration of the eleventh paragraph of the report of the committee on the Book Concern. Carried, to read thus: "There shall be two book-quent weakness of body, deserve not only our approbation, but our sincere thanks to God and them. The whole report of the Committee of Ways and Means, therefore, as amended and confirmed, now reads thus:—

The whole report of Committee on Ways and Means.

"The Committee of Ways and Means, appointed to provide a more ample support for the ministry among us, to prevent locations and the admission of improper persons into the itinerancy, have taken the subject committed to them under serious consideration. They have found, with serious concern and deep regret, that in the present state of things there exist many evils which threaten to undermine that system of itinerating preaching which, under the blessing of God, has been so successful in spreading the gospel of Jesus Christ.

"1. The small pittance allowed to our preachers, and, in many places, the insufficient means used to insure even that, we conceive to be one reason why so many of our useful ministers are induced to locate. Groaning under the pressure of poverty now, and looking forward to a superannuated state without adequate means afforded them for a comfortable support in the decline of life, they sink under the melancholy prospect and reluctantly retire from the field, that they may provide a morsel of bread for themselves, their wives, and children.

"2. The many locations, from these and other causes, have a manifest tendency to weaken and embarrass the itinerancy by obliging us to fill up the vacancies with persons not competent to the work assigned them, and to commit the administration, in some of its important branches, to the hands of young and inexperienced men.

"3. To the same causes may be attributed the many partial locations; that is, families of travelling preachers which are immovably fixed. Their scanty allowance furnishes an excuse, whether justifiable or not your committee presume not to determine, for combining farming, mercantile business, &c., with the ministrations of God's word. This practice, in the opinion of your committee, exceedingly embarrasses the general superintendency in the frequent changes which in the discharge of its duty are unavoidable. In consequence of this, either those whose families are thus located must be subject to distant removals from their families, or others must be exposed to the inconvenience of frequent and distant removals, to make way for those who are in this partially located state.

"4. We perceive a manifest defect among us, occasioned, in some measure, by the multiplicity of locations in regard to ministerial qualifications. Although a collegiate education is not, by your committee, deemed essential to a gospel ministry, yet it appears absolutely necessary for every minister of the gospel to study to show himself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed. Every one, therefore, who would be useful as a minister in the Church, to a sincere piety and laudable zeal for the salvation of souls should add an ardent desire for useful knowledge. He should strive by every lawful means to imbue his mind with every science which is intimately connected with the doctrine of salvation by Jesus Christ, and which will enable him to understand and illustrate the sacred Scriptures. But the early departure from the work of the ministry of many of those among us whose piety, zeal, talent, and mental improvement justified the expectation of their extensive usefulness in the Church, and the manifest indifference of some who remain with us to this important branch of ministerial duty, thus stripping the Church of some of its brightest ornaments, not only exposes her nakedness, but loudly calls for the prompt and vigorous interference of General Conference.

"To obviate these evils, and to secure to the Church a succession of holy, zealous, and useful ministers, becomes, at this time, in the humble opinion of your committee, the imperative duty of this conference. To accomplish these very desirable objects your committee beg leave to recommend the following resolutions, viz. :—

"Resolved, 1st. That it shall be the duty of the presiding elders and preachers to use their influence to carry the rules of Discipline relating to building and renting houses for the accommodation of preachers and families into effect. In order to this, each quarterly meeting conference shall appoint a committee, unless other means have been adopted, who, with the aid and advice of the preachers and presiding elders, shall devise such means as shall seem fit to raise moneys for that purpose. And we furthermore recommend to each annual conference to make special inquiry of its members respecting this part of their duty.

Second resolution.

Resolved, 2. That those preachers who refuse to occupy the houses which may be provided for them on the stations and circuits where they are from time to time appointed, shall be allowed nothing for house-rent, nor receive anything more than their simple quarterage for themselves, wives, and children, and their travelling expenses. Nevertheless, this rule shall not apply to those preachers whose families are either established within the bounds of their circuits or stations, or are so situated that, in the judgment of the stewards or the above-mentioned committee, it is not necessary for the benefit of the circuit to remove them.

Third resolution.

Resolved, 3. That that part of the Discipline which relates to the temporal economy of our Church be so altered as to make the annual allowance of preachers $100, and their wives and widows $100.

Fourth resolution.

Resolved, 4. That there be a committee appointed by the quarterly meeting conference of every circuit and station, consisting of members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, whose duty it shall be to make an estimate of the amount necessary to furnish fuel and table expenses of the family or families of the preachers stationed with them; and that the stewards shall provide, by such means as they may devise, to meet such expenses, by money or otherwise, provided that the quarterly allowance of the preachers shall first be paid by the stewards.

Fifth resolution.

Resolved, 5. That there be a meeting on every district of one steward from each station and circuit, to be selected from among the stewards by the quarterly conference, whose duty it shall be, by and with the advice of the presiding elders who shall preside in such meeting, to take into consideration the general state of the district in regard to temporalities, and to furnish a house and provision for the presiding elders' families, in conformity to the first and fourth resolutions of this report.

"In order the more effectually to provide for the distressed travelling, superannuated, and supernumerary preachers, their wives, widows, and children, your committee earnestly recommend,

Sixth resolution.

Resolved, 6. That each annual conference, in such way and manner as they may think proper, raise a fund for these purposes, according to the sixth article of the fifth section of the temporal economy of our Church.

"Thinking the Discipline sufficiently explicit on those parts which relate to the Christian experience, practice, &c., of preachers, your committee deem it needless to add anything on these subjects; but they beg leave to recommend—

“Resolved, 7. That it be the duty of the bishop or bishops, or a committee which they may appoint in each annual conference, to point out a course of reading and study proper to be pursued by candidates for the ministry; and the presiding elders, whenever a person is presented as a candidate for the ministry, shall direct him to those studies which have been thus recommended; and before any such candidate shall be received into full connexion, he shall give satisfactory evidence respecting his knowledge of those particular subjects which have been recommended to his consideration.”

Seventh resolution.

The committee appointed to confer with Messrs Black and Bennett, delegated by the London Methodist Missionary Society to make an amicable adjustment of certain differences between our Church and the British connexion relative to Upper and Lower Canada, obtained liberty to make their report, which was read and confirmed, as follows:—

Report of the committee appointed to confer with British delegates.

“The committee appointed by the General Conference to confer with Messrs Black and Bennett, delegates appointed by the London Methodist Missionary Society to represent the British connexion to this conference, and, if possible, to make an amicable adjustment of certain differences between our Church and the British connexion, relative to Upper and Lower Canada, beg leave to submit the following report, viz.:—

“1. Your committee have had several friendly interviews with the above-mentioned delegates on these subjects, and they are happy to state that there appears to be an earnest desire to have all existing difficulties terminated to the peace and mutual satisfaction of both parties, and to perpetuate the Christian union and good understanding which have hitherto existed.

“2. It appears, from written communications as well as from verbal testimony, that unhappy dissensions have taken place in Montreal between certain missionaries, sent, at the request of a few official members of the society in that place in time of the last war, by the London Missionary Society, and some American preachers, which have terminated in the division of that society.

“3. Although the late hostilities between the two countries separated for some time those provinces from the immediate superintendency of the Methodist Episcopal Church in America, yet all the circuits, except Quebec, were as regularly supplied as circumstances would admit of with American preachers.

“4. It furthermore appears, from written and verbal communications, that it is the desire of the great majority

May 18. of the people in Upper and Lower Canada to be supplied, as heretofore, with preachers from the United States.

"5. In the two provinces there are twelve circuits and one station, (Montreal,) which have eleven meeting-houses which have been hitherto supplied by American preachers. These things being duly considered, together with the contiguity of those provinces to the western and northern parts of the United States, your committee respectfully submit the following resolutions:—

First resolution.

"Resolved, by the delegates of the annual conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church in General Conference assembled, 1. That we cannot, consistently with our duty to the societies of our charge in the Canadas, give up any part of them, or any of our chapels in those provinces, to the superintendence of the British connexion.

Second resolution.

"2. That a respectful letter be addressed to the London Methodist Missionary Society, explaining the reasons for the above resolution."

Motion to draft an address to the London Missionary Society.

John Emory moved, that a committee be appointed to draft an address to the London Methodist Missionary Society on the subject of their request relative to Montreal, &c. Carried. Nathan Bangs, John Emory, and Thomas L. Douglass were appointed for that purpose.

Conference adjourned until three o'clock P. M.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Conference met, according to adjournment. Bishop Roberts in the chair.

Letter presented and referred to the Committee on Book Concern.

A letter from James Eastburn was presented and referred to the Committee on the Book Concern.

Report of the Committee on the Chartered Fund.

The report of the Committee on the Chartered Fund was called up, and the resolution was confirmed as follows:—

"Your committee, which you honoured with the business of the Charter Fund, having examined the documents which came to hand from the trustees of said fund, as laid before the General Conference of 1812 and 1816, are of opinion that the strictest attention has been given to that interest by the worthy trustees of that fund. They have given a full statement and inventory of the kind of stock of which it is composed, and also of the amount and its annual production, which does not appear to your committee so profitable as it might have been if the request of the trustees had been granted by the conference of 1812. The income of the fund is about six per cent. per annum. The remittances to the several annual conferences are fairly exhibited from May, 1812, to May, 1816, from which it appears the balance of interest still to be remitted is $775 89.

"The amount of capital at present is $20,652 56. The trustees having again petitioned this conference to empower them to change the stock as they may judge most to the advancement of that interest, your committee judge it would be a worthy act, and that such a grant might greatly promote the income. Your committee have the greatest confidence in the fidelity and economy of these gentlemen. Your committee, therefore, humbly submit the following resolution:—

A letter addressed to the trustees of the Charter Fund was read and approved.

Thomas Ware moved, that in case of the sale of stock to an amount not exceeding $5,000, the General Conference authorize the trustees of said fund to loan the same to the Methodist Book Concern at lawful interest until next General Conference. Ordered to lie on the table.

The report of the Committee on Temporal Economy was called up, and the ninth, tenth, and eleventh answers to the first question were considered, and approved.

The report amended reads as follows:—

“The Committee on Temporal Economy, to whom the first section in the temporal economy of our Church and certain parts of the bishops’ addresses were referred, beg leave to report as follows, viz. :—

The resolution was then approved, as amended, and reads as follows, viz. :—

"Report of the Committee of Safety, appointed to take into consideration those parts of the addresses of Bishops Asbury and M'Kendree which relate to the duty of preachers, &c.

"After due examination, your committee are of opinion that, in some parts of the connexion, doctrines contrary to our established articles of faith, and of dangerous tendency, have made their appearance among us, especially the ancient doctrines of Arianism, Socinianism, and Pelagianism, under certain new and obscure modifications; that, in too many instances, nice and metaphysical investigations have taken place with a design to reconcile those truths which are founded on the authority of divine revelation with the limited and obscure views of human reason; that by such investigation the minds of the simple have been led into perplexity and doubt, and the simplicity and glory of the gospel plan of salvation, through faith in a Mediator, greatly obscured; and that there has been too great a departure from the doctrines of the Reformation, as defended by Wesley, especially the doctrine of human depravity, of the necessity of preventing grace, of justification by faith alone, of the direct witness of the Holy Spirit, and of holiness of heart and life, or gospel sanctification.

"Your committee regret that they are under the painful necessity of announcing to you that their examinations authorize them to fear that the Discipline has not been uniformly, faithfully, and impartially enforced in all parts of the work. There appears evidence too strong to admit of dispute, that some of the preachers to whom the administration of discipline has been committed have too much yielded to the influence of popular prejudices in matters where the vital interests of our connexion are concerned. In some instances great inattention has been manifested to the security of our houses of worship where they have been built on the principles of our economy; and in other cases the rules of our charter have been totally dispensed with, and houses erected with pews, which pews have been sold, either at public or private sales, so as to make houses of worship private property, and, consequently, to destroy all our claim to the use of them, except such as may be founded on the will of the pew-holders.

"In some instances, where such houses have been built, our societies and congregations, availing themselves of the constituted civil authority, have abandoned our system of temporal support, and had recourse to legal assessments on private property to realize the annual salaries of the preachers stationed with them.

"Your committee are apprehensive that the rule on dress has, in many instances, been almost dispensed with, and in others very partially administered, so as to afford unwarrantable indulgences to the rich; and that our love-feasts, society and class-meetings, have not been observed, in all parts of the work, with the caution and strictness which the letter and spirit of Discipline require, and which is indispensably necessary to preserve the harmony and spirituality of our societies.

"We regret to learn that, in some cases, preachers in charge have found methods to get members out of society without a constitutional process of trial, which, in the judgment of your committee, is not only an abridgment of sacred rights, but has a most unhappy tendency in leading the minds of enlightened men to undervalue the blessings of Church communion.

May 20.
Report continued.

"In relation to the manner in which stations and circuits have been attended to by preachers in charge, your committee are of opinion that, in many places, our people have just cause of complaint that they have been neglected, both with respect to the public ministration of the word and visiting from house to house. Your committee apprehend that this evil may be traced to one of its principal sources in the narrow limits of the field of labour. Circuits have been formed, divided, and subdivided, on the principle of accommodation to local circumstances. This course has reduced circuits almost exclusively to Sabbath appointments. We cannot consider this among the least evils which threaten the connexion at the present crisis: it has, in the judgment of your committee, a general tendency to locality. It lays a foundation for the growth of jealousy, and may have a serious influence upon the union of the body.

"Your committee are of opinion that most, if not all, of these evils are violations of plain rules of Discipline, and, therefore, cannot see the necessity or propriety of any new legislation as a remedy for them.

"Under these circumstances, your committee judge it of the utmost importance for the General Conference, in its present session, to take such measures as will most effectually cure these growing evils, and, as far as possible, prevent their future existence; and, to accomplish this, report the following resolutions:—

"Resolved, by the delegates of the annual conferences in General Conference assembled, 1. That the General Conference do earnestly recommend the superintendents to make the most careful inquiry in all the annual conferences, in order to ascertain whether any doctrines are embraced or preached contrary to our established articles of faith, and to use their influence to prevent the existence and circulation of all such doctrines.

Church-deads.

"Resolved, 3. That the manner of building houses of religious worship with pews is contrary to the rules of our economy, and inconsistent with the interests of our societies.

trary to the temporal economy of our Church, and inconsistent with apostolic example; that it goes to impede the progress of experimental religion and destroy the itinerant plan; and the superintendents, with all the annual conferences, are hereby desired to take such measures as, in their judgment, will most effectually cure such an evil.

Fifth resolution.

“Resolved, 5. That the superintendents, together with all the presiding elders and assistant preachers, be, and are hereby, earnestly requested to carry into effect, in their several charges, our rules on dress, family worship, love-feasts, class and society meetings.

Sixth resolution.

“Resolved, 6. That no preacher having the charge of a circuit shall be allowed to divide, or in any way lessen the circuit, without the consent and advice of the presiding elder.

Seventh resolution.

“Resolved, 7. That it be, and hereby is recommended to the bishops and presiding elders, in the general and particular oversight of their charges, to guard against such divisions and reductions of districts and circuits as, in their judgment, may be inconsistent with the temporal and spiritual interests of our societies and the preservation of the energies of our itinerant system.

The report, so amended, reads thus:—

Report as adopted.

"The committee appointed to take into consideration the state of the local preachers beg leave to report, that they have deliberately examined the memorials from certain local preachers which have been referred to them, in which three objects particularly seem to be proposed:—

"1. That they may have representatives in the General Conference.

"2. The government of societies, &c.

"3. Be permitted to stipulate for salaries for their services.

"Your committee are of opinion that the first of these is inconsistent with the present constitution of the General Conference; that the second is inexpedient; and, as to the third, that provision is already made for the relief of local preachers in certain cases, and it is not the opinion of your committee that this conference ought to make any further provision, except as is hereinafter recommended.

“From an attentive inquiry into the state of the local preachers on all the parts of our vast continent, we are happy to be able to say that the great body of that very respectable and useful class of our brethren are, in our judgment, the firm supporters and friends of our doctrines, discipline, and Church government, and that by far the greater part of them would be much grieved at any radical changes in our present regulations. But, upon examining those parts of our Discipline which respect local preachers, your committee beg leave to recommend the following amendments :—

“1. That the twentieth section of the first chapter to the end of the second answer to the first question, be so altered as to read thus :—

SECTION 20.

Of the Local Preachers

“Quest. 1. What directions shall be given concerning local preachers.

“Ans. 1. Before any person shall be licensed to preach as a local preacher among us, he shall bring a recommendation from the society or class of which he is a member, and be personally examined before the quarterly meeting conference by the presiding elder, or, in his absence, by the preacher having the charge, touching his acquaintance with the doctrines of our Church, to which he shall give his assent, together with his gifts and grace for preaching; and if he be approved of by the quarterly meeting conference in these respects, and they believe that he will be generally acceptable and useful as a preacher, he shall then receive a license, signed by the presiding elder, or, in his absence, by the preacher having the charge, in these words, ‘N. M.,’ &c., (as at present,) which license it shall be the duty of such local preacher to have annually renewed.

“2. That the words ‘or deacon’ be inserted after the word ‘elder,’ in the last clause of the fourth answer of the same section.

“3. That in the first paragraph of the answer to the second question, instead of the words ‘has preached,’ there be inserted ‘has publicly or privately disseminated;’ and after the words ‘public offices,’ where they first occur, a comma; and that the words ‘from all public offices and privileges,’ where they occur the second time, be struck out.

“4. That in the succeeding paragraph the words ‘and in every case’ to culpable, inclusive, be struck out.

“5. That the following rule be inserted in the conclusion of the same section, viz. :—

May 23.

Amendment of twentieth section of the first chapter of Discipline.
Section twenty.

"6. That the thirteenth article in the ninth section of the first chapter be struck out, and the following rule inserted in its place:—

"13. To license such persons as he may think proper to officiate as exhorters in the Church, provided no person shall be so licensed without the consent of the leaders' meeting, or of the class of which he is a member where no leaders' meeting is held; and the exhorters so authorized shall be subject to an annual examination of character in the quarterly meeting conference, and have their license annually renewed by the presiding elder, or the preacher having the charge, if approved of by the quarterly meeting conference.

"7. That in all places where a quarterly meeting conference is referred to, the phrase 'quarterly meeting conference' be used; and the phrase 'licensed preacher' instead of 'local preacher,' where it is intended to distinguish such from local elders or deacons."

be past remedy; and they are led to deplore the destructive consequences which have already accrued, and are yet likely to result therefrom.

"Your committee find that in the South and West the civil authorities render emancipation impracticable, and, notwithstanding they are led to fear that some of our members are too easily contented with laws so unfriendly to freedom, yet, nevertheless, they are constrained to admit that to bring about such a change in the civil code as would favour the cause of liberty is not in the power of the General Conference. Your committee have attentively read and seriously considered a memorial on the above subject, presented from several persons within the bounds of the Baltimore Annual Conference. They have also made inquiry into the regulations adopted and pursued by the different annual conferences in relation to this subject, and they find that some of them have made no efficient rules on the subject of slavery, thereby leaving our people to act as they please; while others have adopted rules and pursued courses not a little different from each other, all pleading the authority given them by the General Conference, according to our present existing rule, as stated in our form of Discipline. Your committee conclude that, in order to be consistent and uniform, the rule should be express and definite; and, to bring about this uniformity, they beg leave to submit the following resolution:—

Resolution to alter the second division of the ninth section and first answer of our Discipline concerning slavery.

"Resolved, by the delegates of the annual conferences in General Conference assembled, That all the recommendatory part of the second division, ninth section, and first answer of our form of Discipline, after the word 'slavery,' be stricken out, and the following words inserted: 'Therefore no slaveholder shall be eligible to any official station in our Church hereafter where the laws of the state in which he lives will admit of emancipation, and permit the liberated slave to enjoy freedom.'"

Second report of Committee on Book Concern.

The second report of the Committee on the Book Concern was taken up, and the first and second resolutions were concurred in.

N. B. The first and second reports of the Book Concern are entered here:—

"The Committee appointed to examine into the state of the Book Concern, after receiving such information on the subject as they could obtain, beg leave to offer the following report:—

"1. It appears, from an estimate presented by the general book-steward, which he represents as necessarily imperfect, that the whole amount of stock now belonging to the Concern, in books, debts, &c., is about $147,133 94; that, after deducting the sums due from the Concern, and making allowances for bad debts and for damages on stock, the amount of the capital will probably be about $80,000 ; and that, notwithstanding the apparent increase of the capital during four years past to the last-mentioned sum, it appears that the Concern, owing to various causes which have been stated to the conference, is at present somewhat embarrassed.

"2. For the purpose of placing the establishment under better regulations, your committee propose the following resolutions, to be incorporated with that section of our Discipline which relates to the printing and circulating of books:—

"Resolved, 1. That the Book Concern be continued in New-York.

"2. There shall be one editor and general book-steward, and an assistant to act under his directions, both of whom shall be chosen from among the travelling preachers, and, by virtue of their appointment, shall be members of the New-York Annual Conference, to whom, in the interval of the General Conferences, they shall be responsible for their conduct in the book business ; and the New-York Conference shall have power, if they deem it necessary, by and with the advice of the superintendent and Book Committee, to remove either of them, and, in case of removal, death, or resignation, to appoint a successor to act until the succeeding General Conference.

"The following resolutions are recommended as proper to be adopted and entered upon the Journal of this conference:—

"Resolved, 1. That no higher commissions shall be given to booksellers than are allowed to preachers, and that anything to the contrary on the Journal of the conference shall be expunged.

"2. That each annual conference in the United States shall be, and is hereby authorized to give away annually of unsaleable books to any amount not exceeding $50.

"3. That, in the opinion of this conference, it is expedient for the managers of the Book Concern to publish more small books and fewer large ones.

"4. That it shall be the duty of the book-stewards to publish an edition of Mr. Wesley's ' Answer to Dr. Taylor on Original Sin.'

"5. That, in the opinion of this conference, it is necessary and expedient to publish a periodical work, to be entitled The Methodist Missionary Magazine.

"6. That the work be issued in monthly numbers of forty pages each, in octavo form, and twelve numbers shall make a volume.

"7. That it shall be the duty of each annual conference to appoint a committee of three, who shall receive communications from their brethren, and correspond with the editor in order to furnish him with materials proper for publication.

"8. Your committee have been presented with a letter written by Mr. Eastburn to Mr. Griffin, containing conditions on which he proposes to offer the conference the right of printing and selling Dr. Adam Clarke's Commentaries on the Bible; but, being of opinion that it is not expedient to purchase the work, and by no means to do it on the terms proposed, they beg leave to submit the following:—

"Resolved, That, in the judgment of this conference, it is not advisable for our Book Concern to purchase or undertake the sale of Dr. Clarke's Commentary.

"9. The case of brother Henry Ryan has been represented to your committee, in which it appears that, during the late war, while he and the preachers on his district were travelling in Upper Canada, they were, in consequence of the prevailing distress and scarcity, reduced to the unavoidable necessity of supporting themselves, in part, by means of book-money, or of leaving the work; that they therefore expended money belonging to the Book Concern to the amount of more than $700; and that, since the war, they have collected and refunded all that sum except $227, for which sum brother Ryan is now responsible. Under these circumstances it is recommended that this conference adopt the following:—

"Resolved, That the Book Concern shall suffer the loss of $227, due from Henry Ryan, and that he is hereby discharged from his obligation to pay it.

"Lastly, your committee recommend that this conference, if they can find it practicable, adopt, in their wisdom, some method to obtain for themselves better security of the property belonging to the book fund than that which they now have."

Second report of the Committee on the Book Concern.

"1. The committee, having considered the subjects on which they were required to report, beg leave to say, that they deem it unnecessary and improper for the agents of the Book Concern to purchase or sell Grammars or any other school-books, and they recommend the following resolution:—

"Resolved, That it is inexpedient for the Grammar of Mr. Sutcliff to be introduced and circulated among our books.

"2. On the important interests of the book fund, your committee are of opinion that the present state of the Concern is such as to render the purchase of real estate impracticable. They therefore recommend the following resolution:—

"Resolved, That the purchasing of a printing office, &c., or any other real estate, may with propriety be postponed until the next General Conference."

William Phœbus moved, that the word "connexion" be expunged from our Discipline, and the words "Church," "community," and "itinerancy" be inserted, as the grammatical construction may require. Carried.

May 12.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON EPISCOPACY.

The committee to whom was referred so much of Bishop M'Kendree's address as relates to the episcopacy, beg leave to report:—

Report of the Committee on Episcopacy.

In relation to the first branch of their inquiry, your committee, after mature deliberation, are of opinion that there has been no act in the administration of the episcopacy personally, since the last General Conference, so far as the knowledge or information of your committee extends, deserving the censure of this conference. On the contrary, your committee think that the general superintendents are entitled to the thanks of this conference for their patient and persevering efforts, amid numberless toils and cares, in promoting the great and good cause in which they have been so extensively and faithfully engaged. There is one case, however, in which the episcopacy may be indirectly concerned, so far as they may be deemed responsible, under our present form of government, for the administration of their agents, the presiding elders, which your committee conceive it their duty to express their decided disapprobation of, as a manifest violation of explicit and acknowledged law. It is the case of a preacher continued in the pastoral charge of the same station more than two years in succession, not indeed by the direction of the episcopacy, but against their express appointment.

Your committee, however, forbear to press this case at present, from a hope that this notice of it, as it now stands, will be sufficient, and will aid the episcopacy, of whose disposition in this respect your committee entertain no doubt, in the correction of it. But your committee are decidedly of opinion, that to connive at such acts, in favour of individual preachers or societies, and much more to permit a repetition of them, as our rules now are, would produce extensive dissatisfaction, and be highly injurious to our itinerant system.

In relation to the strengthening of the episcopacy, your committee further report, that they have regarded with deep and affectionate concern the declining health and strength of our senior superintendent. Worn down by long, extensive, and faithful labours in the service of God and the Church, your committee feel a solicitude, which they doubt not is equally felt by the conference, that every practicable provision may be made for his relief and comfort; hoping that by a provident forbearance for a time from his arduous labours and weighty cares, the Church may yet, at some future period, through the kindness of a gracious providence, have the benefit of his very desirable services and counsels. They therefore submit the following resolution:—

Resolved, by the delegates of the annual conferences in General Conference assembled, 1. That it is the wish and desire of this General Conference that Bishop M'Kendree, during the continuance of his afflictions and debility, should travel in such directions or remain in such places as he may judge most conducive to his own health and comfort; and that he be accordingly, at the close of this General Conference, respectfully and affectionately requested so to do.

Resolved, &c., 2. That whenever Bishop M'Kendree shall think himself able, it is the wish and desire of this General Conference that he should continue, so far as his health may prudently admit of it, the exercise of his episcopal functions and superintending care.

Resolved, &c., 3. That the committee appointed by the last General Conference to make provision for the families of the bishops are hereby continued, and that the same committee be directed to take into consideration the present state of Bishop M'Kendree's health, and to provide for defraying any extra expenses which, in their judgment, his afflictions may make requisite.

Resolved, &c., 4. That it is expedient that one additional general superintendent be elected and ordained during the session of this General Conference.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Resolutions.

Resolved, &c., 2. That the following address be sent to brethren in Canada :—

DEAR BRETHREN,—We have received, and read with deep interest, the affectionate memorials and addresses from the several circuits in the provinces of Canada, in which you have expressed your ardent desire for the continuance of our ministerial care over you. We most cordially reciprocate the sentiments of brotherly affection and Christian attachment you have expressed, and pledge ourselves to use our best endeavours for your spiritual and eternal interest.

Address to be sent to the brethren in Canada.

Address brethren
Canada.

to in We sincerely deprecate those evils of which you complain, and which have grown out of the conduct of the missionaries sent by the British Conference to labour in Canada. Confiding, however, in the integrity of that conference, and believing they have been misled by partial and erroneous statements sent by interested persons in Canada, we still hope that the existing embarrassment will be removed, and that an amicable adjustment of this unhappy affair may be brought about. We can assure you that no means which in our opinion will be likely to produce this desirable result shall be left untried.

That you may be convinced that we have been neither inattentive to your interests nor unmindful of the respect due to our British brethren, we beg leave to lay before you a brief statement of what has been done in reference to this subject.

It is doubtless well-known to you that your case was fully laid before us at our last session in this city, and impartially considered in the presence of brothers Black and Bennett, who were sent as representatives by the British Conference; and after hearing all that could be said on both sides of the question, it was resolved most expedient, among other reasons because we understood it was your earnest desire, to continue as we had done heretofore our ministerial labours among you. That the British Conference might be fully apprized of the course we had taken, an address was sent to them, stating the reasons which had directed our decision in relation to Canada, and requesting that some arrangements might be made for an amicable adjustment of the existing difficulties. To this communication we have received no direct answer. Similar communications have been since sent by Bishops M'Kendree and George. The letter sent by Bishop George contained a full development of the affairs of Canada, but neither has an answer to this been received.

As one of the circuits has petitioned to have a separate annual conference in Canada, this subject has been considered, and it is thought to be inexpedient for the present, because, among other reasons, it might prevent that interchange of preachers so very desirable and so essential to your prosperity.

After assuring you of our unabated attachment to you as a branch of the Church over which we are called in the providence of God to extend our oversight, and of our determination, at your earnest request as from a consciousness of imperious duty, to continue to afford you all the ministerial aid in our power, we exhort you to steadfastness in the faith, to unity and love, and to perseverance in all holy obedience.

Resolved; &c., 3. That the following note be inserted in the Discipline, under the twenty-third article of our Church, viz.: "As far as it respects civil affairs we believe it the duty of Christians, and especially all Christian ministers, to be subject to the supreme authority of the country where they may reside, and to use all laudable means to enjoin obedience to the powers that be; and therefore it is expected that all our preachers and people who may be under the British or any other government, will behave themselves as peaceable and orderly subjects.

Resolved, &c., 4. That this conference address the British Conference on the subject of a mutual exchange of delegates, as representatives of the one conference to the other.

Resolved, &c., 5. That if, after receiving the views of the British Conference in reference to such interchange, the episcopacy shall judge it expedient at any time previous to the sitting of the next General Conference to send a delegate, the episcopacy shall have authority to appoint and send such delegate, and furnish him with the requisite instructions, and also to draw on the Book Concern for the amount necessary to defray the expenses.

Resolved, &c., 6. That the episcopacy, by and with the advice and consent of the General Conference, if they judge it expedient prior to the sitting of the next General Conference, shall have authority to establish an annual conference in Canada.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE AFFAIRS OF LOCAL PREACHERS.

Your committee, having deliberated with anxious solicitude on the momentous affairs committed to them for consideration, and having weighed the various suggestions contained in the numerous petitions and memorials which were referred to them, have agreed to, and now beg leave to present the following report:—

It does not appear to your committee that it is expedient to abolish the district conferences, as is prayed for in some of the petitions which were referred to them, nor can they recommend the taking of any step toward allowing a delegation of local preachers to the General Conference, esteeming such a measure inexpedient, though demanded by many of the memorials which were referred to them; but they do deem it important to alter, amend, and add to the rule of Discipline concerning local preachers, and therefore respectfully submit the following resolutions, viz.:—

Resolutions submitted by the Committee on Local Preachers.

1. Resolved, by the delegates of the annual conferences in General Conference assembled, That the following alterations, additions, and amendments be made in the twentieth section of the first chapter of our form of Discipline, viz.:

Provided, that if any district conference shall refuse or neglect to hold its regular sessions, then, and in all such cases, the quarterly-meeting conferences of the circuits and stations respectively shall be authorized to transact the business of the district conference. Lost.

(2.) In the second paragraph, between the words "license" and "to recommend," insert, "annually when in their judgment their gifts, grace, and usefulness will warrant renewal."

(3.) In the fourth paragraph, between the words "conference" and "and," insert "the preacher in charge shall cause exact minutes of the charges, testimony, and examination, together with the decision of the committee, to be laid before the district conference, where it shall be the duty of the accused to appear."

(4.) After the fourth paragraph insert a new one, numbered five, thus: "5. When a local elder or deacon shall be expelled, the president of the conference shall require of him the credentials of his ordination, to be filed with the papers of the annual conference within whose limits the expulsion has taken place. And should he, at any future time, produce to the annual conference a certificate of his restoration, signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary of the district conference, his credentials shall be restored to him."

(6.) In the seventh paragraph, fifth line, between the words "every" and "local," insert "licensed."

2. Resolved, &c., That the fifth and subsequent members of the paragraphs of this section be so changed as to coincide with the insertion of a fifth paragraph.

The Committee on the Book Concern, having had the various objects of their appointment under consideration, now take liberty to report, Report.

1. The agents, so far as we have been able to discover, have been diligent and faithful in the discharge of their duties and trusts, and we see no cause even to suspect their integrity.

2. Judging and calculating from the exhibits of the Concern,—the inventory of stock, the agents' report, and other written and verbal items of information,—we find the gross amount of stock, at its nominal valuation, including debts and property of every description, good, bad, and doubtful, to be about $270,002 28. The amount of debts against the Concern is $48,542 50; leaving the balance of stock as estimated at $221,459 78. It appears that $33,636 52 of the debt against the Concern is on interest, which is a heavy draw-back upon the profits of the business.

May 26.

Report on Book Concern continued.

3. We believe that, owing to the method of estimating the stock, which the agents one after another have followed, to show what has been the increase from one General Conference to another, and from a consideration of bad and doubtful debts, and such other stock as may be lost, injured, and unproductive, the net and real value of the stock is considerably less than the estimated amount represents it to be; and we recommend that in all future exhibits and estimates there be such a per centum deducted from the gross nominal amount, and such an allowance for bad and doubtful debts and for unproductive stock, of little worth, &c., as will exhibit an estimate of the real value of capital, and no more.

4. We are of opinion that the heavy debt against the Concern should be reduced as fast and as much as is possibly compatible with the safety and interest of the business; and the out-standing debts be collected in, in order to which the bishops, the presiding elders, and every preacher, and every book committee and annual conference should exert their influence. And the capital stock should not be much, if any, increased: the old, unproductive stock should be disposed of upon such terms as are within the agents' power, either by exchange or reduced prices; or given away.

5. We are also of opinion that the Book Concern should be put upon a more safe establishment for its legal security to the connexion, and that the agents should be under a more definite and legal responsibility to the General Conference for the faithful discharge of their duties and trusts. The committee is apprized of the difficulties attendant on introducing changes, or improvements, or departures from old habits or customs. Therefore we shall only propose at present the few following resolutions, viz.:—

Resolved, &c., 1. That the per centum commission allowed the preachers for selling books be continued as it now is; but any preacher purchasing books of the agents for his own library shall be allowed thirty-three and one-third per cent. discount: and the agents may allow from twenty to thirty-three and one-third per cent. to book-sellers, at their discretion, according to the kinds and quality of the books. Sunday schools and all benevolent institutions for the gratuitous distribution of books, shall always have them as low as they can possibly be afforded.

Resolutions of Committee.

Resolved, &c., 2. That we deem it inexpedient for the preachers to become agents for other booksellers.

May 26.
Resolutions of
Committee on
continued.

Resolved, &c., 3. That the seventh or last paragraph of the section on printing books, &c., page one hundred and ninety-three, be stricken out, and in lieu thereof it be inserted: "Any travelling preacher who may publish any work or book of his own, shall do it on his own responsibility, and he shall be amenable to the conference for any obnoxious matter or doctrine therein contained."

Resolved, &c., 4. That when any preacher sends or transfers any works or books of his own publication to the agents, or to account of the agents, if the work is accepted by the agents, there shall be allowed thirty-three and one-third per cent. discount to the Book Concern, and five copies in every hundred; but the agents shall not publish any works or books on their own account. Every work or book published by the agents shall be for the benefit of the connexion, and shall be subject to the inspection of the Book Committee.

Resolved, &c., 5. That the agents are hereby instructed not to increase nor to retain on hand an unproductive, unprofitable stock; and they are also instructed to liquidate and discharge the heavy debts against the Concern as soon as they possibly can consistently with the true interests of the Concern; and also to press the collection of debts due to the Concern.

Resolved, &c., 6. That when any presiding elder shall have been in arrears one hundred dollars, and any other preacher twenty dollars, at the annual settlement, for more than one year, without having paid any part thereof, he shall not be allowed any further credit or supply of books until the said debt be liquidated to the satisfaction of the agents; and he shall be amenable to the conference for his neglect of duty and be liable to have all the connexion books and claims for books in his possession taken out of his hands and transferred to another; and no preacher shall be allowed to appropriate the book money in his hands to his own use, in any way or manner whatever, but shall always remit it to the agents or to their order and direction as soon as possible.

Resolved, &c., 7. That the agents and their books and accounts shall always be subject to the inspection and examination of the Book Committees, both at New-York and Cincinnati; and the said agents shall be liable to checks and control from the said committees; and the said agents and committees shall be amenable to the annual conference at each place for the punctual and faithful discharge of their respective duties.

Resolved, &c., 8. That the bishops, as overseers of the temporalities as well as the spiritualities of the Church, are hereby requested to pay strict attention to the affairs of the Book Concern at every annual conference; that book committees of inquiry and examination be appointed, and that the rules and regulations relative to the Book Concern be attended to.

Resolved, &c., 9. That the Book Committee at New-York and Cincinnati be authorized to estimate, from year to year, the amount necessary for the support of the book-agents, in addition to what is allowed by the Discipline to preachers as quarterage, and the amount shall be paid out of the funds of the Book Concern: and that the agents, both at New-York and Cincinnati, be allowed to employ such assistance from time to time, and under such regulations and restrictions, and upon such terms as the Book Committee at each place shall deem essential to the interests of the Concern, and no more.

Resolved, &c., 10. That an exhibit of the temporal transactions of the annual conferences be published at the discretion of the agents and Book Committee, in the general Minutes or the Magazine, or both, annually; and that each annual conference, if it choose, may publish its own Minutes with an exhibit of its own pecuniary transactions.

Resolved, &c., 11. That the agents shall be at liberty to suspend the regulation requiring payment for the Magazine in advance.

All of which is respectfully submitted. By order of the Committee.

EZEKIEL COOPER, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE IN THE CASE OF D. YOUNG.

It appears, from the information they have obtained, that a transfer of books, amounting to $750 25, from David Young to John Collins, has not been passed to the credit of said Young; that cash paid by him to the Book Committee, amounting to $234, has been charged as well as credited to him. Your committee are inclined to think that he ought to have credit for both these sums; but as this is in some degree doubtful, in consequence of the want of more information, they recommend the adoption of the following resolution:—

Resolved, &c., That the Book Committee of the Ohio Conference be, and hereby is authorized to settle with David Young on principles of equity, rectifying what errors they may find in reference to the above items.

The report of the Committee on the Itinerancy was then taken up, and, on motion, the rule requiring a second reading was dispensed with; and the report, as amended, was passed.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE ITINERANCY.

Report of the Committee on Itinerancy.

The committee appointed to take into consideration the state of the itinerancy, after mature deliberation on the several subjects referred to them, beg leave to report:—

1. That after availing themselves of such information as they could obtain, they are prepared to state that, for the most part, the annual conferences corroborate the wishes of the General Conference and bishops; but in some instances it was found that the young preachers have not been furnished with the course of study contemplated in the book of Discipline; and from the Journals of the Tennessee and Kentucky Conferences there appear to have been irregularities and errors in the proceedings on the case of Barnabas M’Henry.

2. That our circuits are, in general, well adapted to the convenience and moral improvement of our people. In some instances they may be too small, but frequently too large to admit of the full discharge of all our pastoral duties.

3. In regard to public worship and the administration of the ordinances, it appears there is great want of uniformity. The reading of the Scriptures, the Lord’s prayer, and the apostolic benediction are frequently omitted; and in the administration of the ordinances some use the form in the Discipline, some mutilate it, and others wholly neglect it.

4. Though there does not appear any remarkable deficiency in the discharge of duty, as pastors and teachers, so far as relates to preaching and class-meetings, yet there is a partial inattention to class-meetings, and, in most places, a total neglect of the bands. Pastoral duties, also, in promoting family religion and instructing the children, have not been so constantly attended to as the interests of the Church require. It is the opinion of your committee that these omissions are owing sometimes to the great extent of the circuit and scattered state of the population; in some cases to the want of system; but it is feared in others the want of that engagedness in the discharge of ministerial duties which becomes us as ministers of the gospel of Christ.

5. Your committee further state that, with regard to raising the necessary supplies for the preachers, there is great deficiency. The table expenses are partially supplied in some places, and in others not at all. There are also great deficiencies in the collections for quarterage.

It appears that these deficiencies arise from the want of due attention to and proper application of the system made and provided by the General Conference on those subjects. But, as most of the subjects embraced in the general duties of this committee have been referred to other committees, they think it unnecessary to offer any resolution on those subjects and matters. Nevertheless they beg leave to recommend the following:—

Resolved, by the delegates of the annual conferences in General Conference assembled, 1. That the superintending preachers be instructed so to lay out their work that there may be sufficient time allowed each preacher for the faithful and extensive discharge of all his pastoral duties in promoting family religion and instructing the children.

Resolutions of Committee.

Resolved, &c., 2. That all our preachers observe that order of public worship pointed out in the twenty-third section of our form of Discipline, and that in administering the ordinances, and in the service of the burial of the dead, they invariably use the form of Discipline, and in dismissing the congregation the apostolic benediction; and that they attend uniformly to the order pointed out in the first chapter, twenty-fourth section, of our form of Discipline, in regard to singing the praises of God in our congregations.

Resolved, &c., 3. That the Lord's prayer be used upon all occasions of public worship, at the close of the first prayer, and that it be strongly recommended to all our people to introduce it into their private and family devotions.

Resolved, &c., 4. That the preachers be particularly examined on these several subjects at each annual conference.

In reference to the motion referred to your committee to take into consideration the expediency of making it the duty of the annual conferences to give a travelling preacher, when dropped, a certificate of his moral character, &c., they are of opinion that it does not come within the range of their duty; they have therefore declined making or submitting any resolution on that subject. Also in reference to the motion on the subject of having class papers or books printed at the Book Room, your committee are of opinion that this subject is not of sufficient importance to be taken

May 28. up and acted upon by the General Conference. All of which is respectfully submitted.

S. MERWIN, Chairman.

bishops to send pastoral letters to the people.

E. Mudge offered the following resolution:—

Resolved, &c., That the General Conference do request the bishops jointly to address a pastoral letter to our people at as early a day as may be convenient, and that they forward the same to the book-agents, who are hereby directed to publish eight thousand five hundred copies thereof and distribute them to the presiding elders throughout the connexion. Signed, Enoch Mudge, W. Capers.

On motion, the resolution offered by L. Myers, which had been sustained, was taken up.

Moved, that it be laid on the table. Lost.

The question was then taken on the resolution, and carried.

Resolved, &c., That our thanks be presented to our beloved bishops for the patience they have exercised among us, and for the able and dignified manner in which they have presided in the conference. Unanimously adopted.

lutions.

W. Fisk offered the following resolution:—

Resolved, &c., That the resolutions of the General Conference which are not printed in the Discipline, and which relate to the duties of preachers on their circuits, &c., be printed by our book-agents on loose sheets and sent to the several districts. Carried. Signed, W. Fisk, T. Merritt.

May 23.

Moved, that the report on the admission and trial of members be taken up. Lost.

Moved by Robert Payne, that this conference express their gratitude to our secretary, brother Emory, and his assistants, brothers Mason and Peyton, for the active and faithful discharge of their duties. Carried unanimously.

Vote of thanks to the secretary and his assistants.

Committee of Revisal.

British Conference.

The Journal was read, and the conference adjourned sine die.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE REPORT ON THE EPISCOPACY, PASSED
MAY 25, AND SHOULD HAVE BEEN RECORDED AT THAT TIME.

Resolved, by the delegates of the annual conferences in General Conference assembled, 1. That we approve generally of the conduct of the superintendents in the administration of the government for the last four years; and that their zeal and exertions to promote the cause of God and the interests of the Church, under the circumstances in which they have been placed, merit the grateful acknowledgment of the General Conference and of the whole Church.

That Bishop M'Kendree be, and hereby is respectfully requested to continue to afford what aid he can to the episcopacy consistently with his age and infirmities, when and where it may best suit his own convenience; and that the provisions of the last General Conference for meeting his contingent expenses be continued.

Resolved, &c., 3. That the episcopacy be strengthened by the election and ordination of two additional bishops at the present session of the General Conference.

May 28.

circuit after each other or by dividing the connexion into several episcopal departments, with one bishop or more in each department, as to them may appear proper and most conducive to the general good, and the better to enable them fully to perform the great work of their administration in the general superintendency, and to exchange and unite their views upon all affairs connected with the general interests of the Church.

Resolved, &c., 5. That the book-agents and Book Committee in New-York shall be a committee to estimate the amount necessary to meet the family expenses of the bishops, which shall be annually paid by the book-agents out of the funds of the Book Concern; and that the above resolution be incorporated into our Discipline.

Whereas, under a painful sense of official duty, the decision of the Baltimore Annual Conference in the case of Dennis B. Dorsey has been affirmed by this General Conference; And whereas an unhappy and pernicious excitement has been produced in some parts of our work by the representations contained in a certain periodical publication which the said Dennis B. Dorsey was engaged in circulating, and persisted in circulating, against the judgment of the conference of which he was a member, and in violation, as they conceive, of his obligations as a Christian minister, and of his associate obligations as a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in regard to the character of the matter contained in the said publication, and in others, circulated by the said D. B. Dorsey; And whereas this General Conference is desirous of guarding against any misunderstanding or misrepresentation of the grounds of this decision, and of affording at the same time a safe and equitable basis for the future peace and harmony of the Church, and of giving demonstration to the beloved people of our charge that, as affectionate pastors, who sincerely care for the flock, we desire not to extend the severities even of a just discipline beyond such examples as may have been judged necessary for its sound and salutary maintenance; therefore be it

May 15.
J. Emory's resolutions continued.

Resolved, by the delegates of the annual conferences in General Conference assembled, 1. That no act or decision of this General Conference is intended, or can justly be so construed, as to deny to any minister or member of the Methodist Episcopal Church any liberty of speech or of the press which shall be consistent with our moral obligations as Christians, and with our own existing rules and associate obligations as Methodists and Methodist ministers; and that any representation or construction to the contrary will, in our judgment, be a violation of truth and righteousness.

First. Freedom of speech and writing.

Resolved, &c., 2. That the rule in our discipline, chapter two, section seven, question first, and answer third, was not intended in any sense inconsistent with the above resolution, being designed solely to guard against any mischievous and false brethren who may ungratefully avail themselves of their place in the bosom of the Church to endeavour to sow dissensions by inveighing against our doctrines or discipline.

Second.

Resolved, &c., 3. That we do hereby most affectionately advise and exhort any of our brethren who may be concerned in this advice to desist in future from patronizing and circulating such publications; and also, by all the sacred and tender ties which bind us together as Christians and as Methodists, we entreat our friends to discountenance any one who will persist in such decisive and destructive practices.

Third. Mischievous publications.

May 15.

lutions continued.
Fourth.

Resolved, &c., 4. That in view of the objects and principles stated in the preamble to these resolutions, and in the earnest hope that this evidence of lenity and forbearance will tend to heal existing wounds, and to prevent the continuance of publications of the offensive and inflammatory character, in our opinion, justly complained of, this General Conference affectionately advises that no further prosecutions may be instituted, in any part of our work, against any minister or member of the Methodist Episcopal Church on the ground of any past agency, or concern in any past publications of this description, with an earnest desire by this act of amnesty to throw a veil over the past, and to provoke our brethren to a generous reciprocation of brotherly love and better works.

Fifth.

Resolved, &c., 5. That, with the advice and consent of any quarterly meeting conference within the jurisdiction or bounds of which any expulsion of any minister or member of our Church may have taken place within months last passed, (on account in whole or in part of their agency and conduct in relation to any such publications as above described,) and also with the consent of the minister or preacher having charge of the circuit or station embracing such quarterly meeting conference, such minister or preacher shall be, and hereby is, officially authorized and empowered to restore to their former standing, in the ministry or in the membership of the Church, any such individual or individuals who shall make such concessions in writing, if required, with regard to their past proceedings, and give such assurances with regard to their future course in relation to the premises as shall be satisfactory to such minister or preacher, and also to such quarterly meeting conference; Provided that this shall be done within six months from the close of this General Conference; and provided, also, that such minister or preacher shall not be hereby considered bound in any case to reinstate any such individual or individuals, as leader of any class or classes, unless, in his own discretion, he shall judge it proper to do so.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON EPISCOPACY TO WHOM THE LETTER OF THE REV. E. HEDDING TO THE GENERAL CONFERENCE WAS REFERRED.

The Committee on the Episcopacy to whom the letter of the Rev. E. Hedding to the General Conference was referred, submit the following :—

Case of Bishop Hedding in regard to slander.

An article having appeared in the "Mutual Rights," over the signature of "Timothy," purporting to be an address to the junior bishop, E. Hedding, in relation to an address delivered by the bishop to the members of the Pittsburgh Annual Conference, in August, 1826, which the bishop considered unjust, a misrepresentation throughout, and a base slander upon his character, as he declared in a note to the editor of said "Mutual Rights," which note was published in the periodical; and several anonymous certificates having also been published in said "Mutual Rights" justifying the representation of "Timothy," and of course contradicting the contents of the bishop's note.

These various circumstances the bishop conceived had already operated to his injury and might so operate in future, and he therefore thought himself called upon to lay the matter before the General Conference. This he did in a written communication, which, after being read before the conference, was referred to the Committee on Episcopacy.

May 15.

That committee, having taken the same into consideration, resolved to procure a meeting between the bishop and the delegates of the Pittsburgh Annual Conference in the presence of the committee and in presence of the writer of the article signed "Timothy," in order, as far as possible, to ascertain the character of the address delivered by the bishop to the Pittsburgh Conference.

Plan pursued by the committee on Bishop Hedding's case.

The plan pursued to obtain this object was, for the members of the said delegation severally, first to state their recollections of that address, then to answer the questions proposed to them on the subject.

After all these delegates had thus communicated to the committee their recollections, a paper was read containing an accurate outline of the address by the bishop as he had been able to make it out from his own recollection. The recollections of the delegation from Pittsburgh Annual Conference and of Bishop Hedding were not only substantially, but, in a remarkable degree, circumstantially concurrent.

Bishop
ding's ment. Hed-state-

The bishop then pointed out the injustice, misrepresentation, and slander of his character which he considered as pervading the address signed "Timothy;" after which the author of that article, having been permitted to address the committee, acknowledged that in not properly distinguishing in two instances, he had done injustice, giving the general character of the bishop's address; that some of the inferences he had drawn were unjust, and that as his premises were incorrect, all the inferences drawn from them might be erroneous.

Acknowledgment of the author of "Timothy."

Declaration of the committee
on Bishop Hed-
ding's case.

Your committee beg leave therefore to declare, as the result of their investigation in this matter, that they consider the view presented in the bishop's note to the editor of the "Mutual Rights" of the article signed "Timothy" to have been strictly correct.

The committee would further declare that, in their opinion, the address of Bishop Hedding, as recollected by himself and the delegates of the Pittsburgh Annual Conference, not only was not deserving of censure, but was such as the circumstances of the case rendered it his official duty to deliver.

STEPHEN G. ROSZEL, Chairman.

2. That instead of meeting the class after preaching on the Sabbath, he addressed the members on the subject of reform. (See Richard Bond's Certificate.)

Proceedings in relation to Bp. Soule's sermon preached before the South Carolina Conference.

Whereas, in the sermon of the Rev. Bishop Soule, preached before the South Carolina Conference, January 14th, 1827, there is in the opinion of some an apparent departure from several points of doctrine held by the Methodist Episcopal Church, that is to say,

1. It may be fairly inferred from the above-mentioned sermon, that Christians are not under moral obligation to keep the Sabbath holy, since the law which enjoins the observance of the Sabbath day is done away.

2. The law given to mankind in a state of innocency has, in virtue of atonement, relinquished its claims in such a sense as not to condemn even him who refuses compliance with the conditions of the new covenant.

3. That the atonement made by Jesus Christ was a satisfaction in such a sense as to render both repentance and pardon with respect to the sins atoned for, unnecessary.

4. That the atonement has no direct and immediate application to the transgressions of the law to which man is now personally responsible, called in the sermon the gospel or the law of liberty, therefore,

Resolved, That this General Conference now go into an investigation of the subject, and determine whether such doctrines are contained in said sermon. Signed L. M'Combs, T. Merritt.

Resolved, That the Committee on the Book Concern be instructed to inquire and report to this conference, what more effectual measures can be adopted for the collection of the debts due for our periodical publications; and also the best plan for furnishing each preacher with a copy of the Christian Advocate and Journal, and also into the expediency of adopting the following resolutions, viz. :—

1. Of the books now in hand in any circuit or station, and charged to any presiding elder, on all sales which may be made between the time of receiving this information, and the next ensuing session of the annual conferences respectively, the preacher making such sales shall be allowed twenty-six and two-thirds per cent from the retail prices, and the presiding elder thirteen and one-third, being together equal to forty per cent.

2. Where books have been accumulated in any circuit or station, more than are likely to be speedily sold, the presiding elders are hereby requested and directed, to cause the same to be distributed through the district, in such manner as may be most conducive to their speedy sale, and to charge the expenses of making such distribution to the Book Concern.

W. Fisk called for a division of the resolution, and that the items be voted on separately; and this course was admitted to be in order.

It was then moved that the report be indefinitely postponed, which motion was decided in the negative.

The question being taken on the adoption of the first item in the resolution contained in the report, it was decided in the affirmative, ninety-four in favour, and thirty against it. The question being taken on the second and third items, they were both adopted, after so amending the second as to make it read in the language of the resolutions offered by L. M'Combs.

Session extended.

Report of the Committee on Episcopacy, and also Resolutions of said Committee.

The Committee on the Episcopacy to whom was referred the preamble and resolution questioning the soundness of doctrine in a sermon preached by Bishop Soule before the South Carolina Conference, and requiring an investigation into the same, beg leave to report: That having had this matter thus submitted to them under careful examination, the committee have not seen reason to concur with any of the items contained in said preamble, and therefore submit the following resolutions:—

Resolution on the subject of the Sermon of Bishop Soule.

Resolved, by the delegates of the annual conferences in General Conference assembled, 1. That nothing in the sermon preached by Rev. Bishop Soule, before the South Carolina Conference, January 11th, 1827, and published at the request of said conference, warrants the inference "that Christians are released from moral obligations to keep the Sabbath holy;" or,

2. That "the law given to mankind in a state of innocence has, in virtue of atonement relinquished, its claims in such a sense as not to concern even him who refuses compliance with the conditions of the new covenant;" or,

3. That "the atonement made by Jesus' Christ is a satisfaction in such a sense, as to render both repentance and pardon with respect to the sins atoned for unnecessary;" or

4. That "the atonement has no direct and immediate application to the transgressions of the law to which man is responsible, called in the sermon, the gospel or law of liberty."

And it is further resolved, in the judgment of this conference, that there is nothing in the sermon, fairly construed, inconsistent with our articles of religion, as illustrated in the writings of Messrs. Wesley and Fletcher. All of which is respectfully submitted.

STEPHEN G. ROSZEL, Chairman.

Pittsburg, May 22, 1828.

It was then moved and seconded, that the rules of the conference be so amended as to require each member to take his seat at the time the president appears and takes the chair.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE EPISCOPACY.

The Committee on the Episcopacy begs leave to report:

1. Your committee, after a particular and minute examination respecting the labours and administration of our government by the episcopacy, find nothing to condemn but much to applaud. Their labours during the last four years have been arduous, and their attention to duty such as meets the decided approbation of your committee.

2. In any arrangement that the bishops may think proper to make for their own convenience in the general oversight of the work, we would recommend that each of our bishops should, if practicable, be known in each of the annual conferences once in four years; and that none of our preachers should be kept too long in city stations.

3. Your committee find that Bishops Roberts and Soule have not received the full amount of their salaries, not having charged the whole amount to those conferences over which they have presided, believing that the Discipline made it the duty of each annual conference to pay an equal proportion of their demand.

Your committee are of opinion, that the health of Bishop M'Kendree is such as to render it impracticable for him to do the work of an effective man, and recommend that he should use his own discretion in travelling through the connexion, and taking the oversight and superintendence as he may find it prudent and practicable for him to do so. And your committee would further remark that, in their opinion,

Your committee beg leave to offer the following resolutions:—

Resolved, 1. That the last clause of section first, in part second of the forms of Discipline, be so amended as to read as follows:—Each annual conference shall pay its proportionate part toward the allowance of each one of the bishops.

Resolved, 2. That it shall be the duty of the Agents of the Book Concern to pay out of the Book Fund the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars per annum, in quarterly instalments, to Bishop M'Kendree, on his order, to meet his extra expenses. Signed,

Whereas, an unhappy excitement has existed in some parts of our work, in consequence of the organization of what have been called "Union Societies," for purposes and under regulations believed to be inconsistent with the harmony and peace of the Church, and in relation to the character of much of the matter contained in a certain periodical publication called the "Mutual Rights," in regard to which certain expulsions from the Church have taken place; and whereas, this General Conference indulges in a hope that a mutual desire may exist for conciliation and peace, and is desirous of leaving open a way for the accomplishment of so desirable an object on safe and equitable principles, therefore,

Resolved, 1. That in view of the premises, and in the earnest hope that this measure may tend to promote this object, this General Conference affectionately advises that no further proceedings may be had, in any part of our work, against any minister or member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, on account of any past agency or concern in relation to the above-named periodical, or in relation to any Union Society as above-mentioned.

Resolved, 2. If any persons expelled as aforesaid feel free to concede that publications have appeared in said "Mutual Rights," the nature and character of which were unjustifiably inflammatory, and do not admit of vindication, and that others, though for want of proper information, or unintentionally, have yet, in fact, misrepresented individuals and facts, and that they regret these things; if it be voluntarily agreed, also, that the union societies above alluded to shall be abolished, and the periodical called "Mutual Rights" be discontinued at the close of the current volume, which shall be completed with due respect to the conciliatory and pacific design of this arrangement, then this General Con-

It is further understood that any individual or individuals who may have withdrawn from the Methodist Episcopal Church on account of any proceedings in relation to the premises, may also be restored by mutual consent under this arrangement, and the same principles as above stated. Signed, J. Emory, H. G. Leigh.

The following report was presented and read, viz. :—

The Committee on Elections beg leave to report, that whereas there has not been anything particularly referred to them, that they have barely inquired into the legality of the delegation composing this General Conference, and find nothing incorrect. Your committee find, however, that some of the annual conferences have been, and still are, in the habit of choosing supernumeraries or delegates in reserve, so as to have their proper ratio ; but as usage has established the principle, we do not deem it expedient to make any rule on the subject. Signed in behalf of the committee,

GEORGE PICKERING, Chairman.

And on motion, the conference voted to concur therein.

An exhibit, containing an account of the Chartered Fund, was presented and read, and on motion, referred to a select committee of three members to examine and report thereon.

the Minutes of an annual meeting of the Trustees of Chartered Fund.

EXTRACT FROM THE MINUTES OF AN ANNUAL MEETING OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE CHARTERED FUND, &C., HELD ON THE 4TH OF JANUARY, 1832.

Whereas, some difficulty has arisen to the trustees in the management of the fund under their charge, in consequence of two items in the present act of incorporation, to wit :—

1. In its title, which is, "The Trustees of the Fund for the relief and support of the Itinerant, Superannuated, worn-out Ministers and Preachers of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America, their Wives and Children, Widows and Orphans," the same being so long that cases have occurred where legacies have been left, misnaming the fund, and that in consequence of which law-suits have occurred.

2. The annual income being limited to five hundred pounds in the original Act of Assembly, April 6th, 1791, it has been argued before court, that inasmuch as the income has exceeded the legal limit the charter is legally void. Whereupon,

Resolved, That application be made by the president and secretary to the General Conference, that if the trustees shall deem it expedient to apply to the legislature of Pennsylvania to remedy these cases, that they may be authorized so to do, and to change the name of the Fund to "The Chartered Fund of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America," and to enlarge the income as they may deem expedient.

The resolutions on dress, on building and occupying churches, have been taken up by other committees; we therefore beg to be discharged from the consideration of these subjects. Respectfully submitted,

Report of Com-

On motion the report was accepted.

A further report of the Committee on the Itinerancy was presented and read.

An amendment was moved to strike out all that part which relates to the Baltimore and Pittsburg Conferences. Withdrawn.

On motion the report was then adopted, viz. :—

The Committee on Itinerancy, after a patient and laborious investigation of the various subjects which were committed unto them, have the satisfaction of reporting, that the general state of the itinerant connexion is not only favourable, but its future prospects exceedingly flattering. The great Head of the Church has crowned the labours of our ministry with almost unparalleled success for the last four years; and while our numbers in the membership and in the ministry have been greatly increased, there has also

Committee on Itinerancy.

May 17.
Report of Committee on Itin-

been an evident advancement in Scriptural holiness, which is professedly the great object of our itinerant system.

Your committee have made special inquiry concerning the modes of administration within the several conferences, and examined the records of the same, and considering the vast extent of country, the variety of customs and circumstances, the very complicated and conflicting interests embraced in our field of labour, it is truly a matter of surprise, as well as solemn thankfulness to God, that the whole body of the Church has been preserved, not only in unity of doctrine, but such uniformity of administration, manner of conducting public worship, and other usages in which the distinctive features of Methodism have been maintained.

Your committee are happy to say they find no deterioration from the spirit of Methodism in the annual examination of character in our conferences, but that great care has been taken to preserve the whole body of the itinerant ministry pure in faith and practice, in spirit, in Christian simplicity, and in moral and ministerial integrity; nor do we discover any abatement of that laudable zeal and missionary enterprise which is so important to the existence of our itinerancy, and which seems emphatically to say, "We must take the world and subdue it to the cross of Christ." Indeed, your committee have found very little of which they can complain, and nothing to censure.

The reading of the Scriptures in the morning and afternoon services, and the public use of the Lord's prayer is generally practised, though not as uniformly as could be wished, and in some instances the sacraments are administered without using our prescribed and excellent forms; but in these things there has been an evident improvement the last four years, and we are confident that a proper attention to this subject in the annual conferences will shortly do away all irregularity, and our public administrations will become uniform, Scriptural, and edifying.

Improvements have been made also in the matter and manner of singing in our congregations; but this part of devotional service requires the fostering care of the respective conferences, enjoining it on their own members to supply our people with our standard Hymn Book and the Methodist Harmonist, and no others.

While in the older parts of our country the work is increasing on our hands by cultivating new fields of labour, and occupying important towns and villages which heretofore were either inaccessible or neglected for want of men and means, our frontier and newly-settled countries have equal claims on our attention, and call loudly on our Church for a supply of efficient labourers in those part of our Lord's common vineyard. In the opinion of your committee, particular regard should be had to the real wants of every part of our Church, and in the formation of districts, circuits, and stations, the labour should be equalized as much as possible, not only within the bounds of the same conference, but, as far as practicable, among the several conferences.

In our temporal economy there has been a gradual advance in the annual supplies ; yet much remains to be done before the system of finance will be either uniform or acceptable ; and as yet it is painfully unequal. Resolutions have been presented to this conference which it is hoped will be happy in their effects.

The distribution of our conference funds, small as they have been, has generally been equitable, though we regret to say that the Baltimore and Pittsburg Conferences have continued to make their dividend on the amount of deficiency, and not on the amount of claims as directed by the last General Conference.

In concluding the report your committee would say, that it has been with no common degree of delight they have surveyed the general state of our work, as well as the minute and complicated parts of our great and most advisable system of itinerancy, which is so efficient in its free and external operations of publishing the Gospel to the poor, taking for its motto, "Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature." We can but view its adaptation to the grand enterprise of Christian benevolence, which is to evangelize the whole world ; and it is gratifying to learn that many of our annual conferences have officially taken an interest in our Missionary, Bible, Tract, and Sunday-school societies.

Our itinerant system is not only missionary in its character, exploring the dark and dismal wastes of human wretchedness, penetrating the habitations of the poor, and tracing out the abodes of misery, but it possesses in itself the ample means of developing the resources of Christian charity, and carrying into complete success all those benevolent institutions of our Church which are of such vital importance to her best interests.

The subjects of special reference to your committee are reported, with such resolutions as were deemed proper in the case. Respectfully submitted.

L. CLARK, Chairman.

On motion of S. G. Roszel, seconded by A. Griffith, it was resolved, that the secretary be instructed to furnish each annual conference with a copy of the journals of the last General Conference on the subject of dividing the funds among the preachers at the annual conferences.

The whole report as amended.

The committee to whom was referred the business of the negotiation with the delegates of the Canada Conference on the subject of our Book Concern, having had the same under their serious consideration, are of opinion that in consideration of their former relation to us, and the friendly feelings and brotherly affections which now exist between the two connexions, as well as in view of the liberal and efficient support they have formerly given the Concern, an apportionment of the property of the Concern ought to be made to them. But as constitutional difficulties are believed to be in the way of such appropriation by this conference, because they have not been instructed on the subject by their constituents, according to the proviso at the end of the restrictive regulations, they beg leave to submit for the adoption of the conference the following resolutions :

Resolved, &c., 1. That if three-fourths of all the members of the several annual conferences, who shall be present and vote on the subject, shall concur herein, and as soon as the fact of such concurrence shall be certified by the secretaries of the several annual conferences, then the Book Agents and Book Committee in New-York shall be, and they are hereby authorized and directed to settle with the agents of the Canada Conference, on the following principles and preliminaries, viz. :—

May 23.
Report as arranged on Canada affairs.

1. The dividend shall be made according to the proportion that the number of travelling preachers in the Canada Conference bears to the number of travelling preachers in the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, including in both estimates the superannuated preachers and those on trial.

2. The amount of property to be divided shall be reckoned according to the first and largest estimate of stock in the late exhibit of the Book Agents, namely, $448,745 70½, deducting therefrom debts due from the Concern, annuities, &c., estimated at $15,728 18, and the whole amount of the publishing fund, amounting to $16,928 28, making a total deduction (including credits to be allowed to M. Ruter and C. Holliday) of $35,178 77, and leaving an amount to be divided of about $413,566 93½.

3. That the Canada Conference shall receive a full proportion of the unsaleable and saleable stock, and of the bad as well as good debts, considering the stock and debts in Canada that belong to the Book Concern as so much of the dividend already paid, but to be estimated as forming a part of the General Book Concern, according to the manner of estimating the whole amount.

4. When the adjustment shall have been made according to the foregoing preliminaries, it shall be deemed a final settlement of all claims which the Canada Conference may be supposed to have on the Book Concern, or any other funds or property of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, in virtue of their former relation to us.

Resolved, 2. That our superintendents be, and they are hereby respectfully requested to present the foregoing preamble and resolution to the several annual conferences for their concurrence, as contemplated in the premises.

Superintendents requested to present the foregoing reso-

mittee on Ca-

Resolved, That a copy of the resolution of the last General Conference, by which the Canada Conference was allowed to dissolve connexion with the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, and also a copy of the acts of this General Conference on Canada affairs, accompany the resolution about to be presented to the annual conferences.

On motion of S. G. Roszel, resolved, that the report of the Committee on the General Conference at Pittsburg, May, 1828, on the Canada business, be entered on the journals of this conference.

The report was read, viz.:—

Resolved, by the delegates of the annual conference in General Conference assembled, that whereas the jurisdiction of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States of America has heretofore been extended over the ministers and members in connexion with said Church in the province of Upper Canada, by mutual agreement, and by the consent and desire of our brethren in that province; and whereas this General Conference is satisfactorily assured that our brethren in the said province, under peculiar and pressing circumstances, do now desire to organize themselves into a distinct Methodist Episcopal Church, in friendly relations with the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, therefore be it resolved, and it is hereby resolved by the delegates of the annual conferences in General Conference assembled,

1. If the annual conference in Upper Canada at its ensuing session or any succeeding session previously to the next General Conference, shall definitely determine on this course, and elect a general superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church in that province, this General Conference do hereby authorize any one or more of the general superintendents of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States, with the assistance of any two or more elders, to ordain such general superintendent for the said Church in Upper Canada, provided always, that nothing herein contained be contrary to or inconsistent with the laws existing in the said province; and provided that no such general superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Upper Canada, or any of his successors in office, shall at any time exercise any ecclesiastical jurisdiction whatever in any part of the United States, or of the territories thereof; and provided also, that this article shall be expressly ratified and agreed to by the said Canada Annual Conference, before any such ordination shall take place.

2. That the delegate who has been selected at this Motion on the subject of a copy of the resolution by which the dissolution of the Canada Conference from the M. E. Church in the United States was effected.

Motion on the subject of entering report of Committee on General Conference at Pittsburg on the journals of this conference. The report referred to above.

General Conference to attend the ensuing annual conference of the British Wesleyan Methodist Connexion be, and hereby is, instructed to express to that body the earnest and affectionate desire of this General Conference that the arrangement made with that connexion in relation to the labours of their missionaries in Upper Canada may still be maintained and observed.

3. That our brethren and friends, ministers or others in Upper Canada shall, at all times, at their request, be furnished with any of our books and periodical publications on the same terms with those by which our agents are regulated in furnishing them in the United States, and until there shall be an adjustment of any claims which the Canada Church may name. On this connexion the Book Agents shall divide to the said Church an equal proportion of any annual dividend which may be made from the Book Concern to the several annual conferences respectively; provided that however the aforesaid dividend shall be apportioned to the Canada Church only as long as they may continue to support and patronize our Book Concern as in the past. Respectfully submitted as agreed.

W. FISK, Chairman.

May 23.
Report of the Committee on Episcopacy as amended.

The Committee on the Episcopacy beg leave to report :

1. That they have examined the administration in the several annual conferences for the last four years, and find that it has been correct and highly satisfactory, and therefore is entitled to the support and approbation of the General Conference.

2. In consequence of the lamented death of our beloved Bishop George, the extension of the work under our care and oversight, and the increase of the annual conferences, it is recommended that we elect two additional bishops at the present conference.

3. As it is considered by the committee an evil of no small magnitude for the same preachers to be continued from year to year in town and city stations, the superintendents are respectfully requested to diversify appointments of this sort as much as possible among preachers deemed suitable for such appointments.

4. As our charitable institutions, colleges, and seminaries of learning are continually increasing, and as the American Colonization Society is rising in its claims on the American community, it is considered proper for our bishops, whenever in their judgment, and in the judgment of an annual conference, it shall be found expedient, to appoint any preacher as an agent to promote the interest of either or all of these institutions

5. In consequence of the age and increased infirmities of our venerable and beloved Bishop M'Kendree, it is recommended that his present relation be continued, and that the sum of $250 be allowed him annually for extra expenses, and to defray the expenses of a travelling companion $100 for the allowance of said travelling companion, and that he be authorized to draw this amount from the Book Concern.

6. On examination it has been ascertained, that although the allowance for the family expenses of the bishops has been ample, yet it is found that Bishop Roberts is deficient in his travelling expenses about $100, Bishop Hedding about $50, and Bishop Soule about $200, therefore it is recommended that these deficiencies be paid them out of the avails of the Book Concern, and that $125 be paid each of them annually in part of their travelling expenses, and the deficiency, if any, be ascertained and paid at the ensuing General Conference.

7. It is recommended that the rule to estimate the allowance of the bishops for family expenses be so altered as to make it the duty of the annual conference within whose bounds the family or families of the bishop or bishops may reside to estimate the amount necessary to meet such expense.

8. Considering the great extent of the work throughout this vast continent, committed to the oversight of the episcopacy, the committee deem it inexpedient to require each of our bishops to travel throughout the whole of their extensive charges during the recess of the General Conference, and therefore recommend to the episcopacy to make such an apportionment of the work among themselves as shall best suit, in their judgment, most effectually to promote the general good.

Caleb Leach, having received information of the indisposition of his family, requested leave of absence, which was granted.

The report of the Committee on the Book Concern was called up.

The sixth resolution was read, and a motion made to amend it. Carried.

The Committee on Bible, Tract, and Sunday-school Societies, having had the subjects committed to them under consideration, beg leave to present the following report:—

The support of the Bible, Sunday-school and Tract Societies we regard as vitally connected with the interests and prosperity of the Church of Christ, and therefore must be attended to in all the departments of our work with zeal and energy, in order to extend the kingdom of Christ as much as may be among men; and although considerable has been done in these departments of religious charity and Christian benevolence, yet it is thought that by a harmonious and simultaneous action of all engaged in the itinerant field much more may be effected. That this may be done to the best possible advantage, the committee recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:—

Resolved, by the delegates of the several annual conferences in General Conference assembled, 1. That we regard the establishment of Bible, Sunday-school and Tract Societies under our control, separate and distinct from similar associations denominated national or American, as highly expedient, necessary, and salutary, and demanding the united support and hearty coöperation of all our preachers, travelling and local, as well as all the members and friends of our Church.

Resolved, &c., 2. That it be made the special duty of all the annual conferences to adopt such measures respectively as they shall see fit, to bring the objects of these societies fully and permanently before the people of their charges, so as to enlist the greatest possible numbers in this work of charity, and to raise pecuniary means for its support.

Resolved, &c., 3. That the following amendments be inserted in our form of Discipline, viz. :—

In section five, of chapter one, page twenty-eight, to the sixth answer to question two, let there be added the following words, “and to promote by all proper means the cause of missions and Sunday-schools, and the publication, by our own press, of Bibles, tracts, and Sunday-school books.”

In section nine, page 39, between the fourteenth and fifteenth answers, let there be inserted the following: "15. To encourage the support of missions and Sunday schools, and the publication and distribution of Bibles, tracts, and Sunday-school books, by forming societies and making collections for these objects in such way and manner as the annual conference to which he belongs, shall from time to time direct. 16. To lay before the quarterly conference at its last meeting annually, to be entered on its journal, a written statement of the number and state of the Sunday school in the circuit or station, and to report the same, together with the amount raised for the support of missions, and for the publication of Bibles, tracts, and Sunday-school books to his annual conference."

In section three, page 33, of chapter 1, after the sixteenth answer to the sixth question, let there be added the following: "What has been contributed for the support of missions, and what for the publication of Bibles, tracts, and Sunday-school books?"

In section seven, page one hundred and eighty-three, part two, let the third item be so amended as to make it the duty of the Book Committee in New-York to coöperate with the general editors of the Book Concern in the selection of Sunday-school books and tracts.

Resolved, &c., 4. That there shall be a book, and the Book Agents and Editors in New-York are hereby requested to prepare such book as soon as convenient, in which shall be laid down, in the most simple form, the best entire system of Sunday-school teaching.

Winans moved to amend it by striking out the words, "They say they have had additions," and inserting, "It appears there have been additions." Conference met according to adjournment, Bishop Roberts in the chair.

Canada communication.

The conference resumed the consideration of the unfinished business of the forenoon, and S. G. Roszel withdrew his motion for postponement. The report was then taken up, and the amendment offered by William Winans, and carried.

Report of the Committee on the above communication.

The report, as amended, was then read and adopted, viz.: The committee to whom was referred the address of sundry persons in Upper Canada, claiming to be the Methodist Episcopal Church in that province, beg leave to report that they have had an interview with the individuals appointed by those persons who were the bearers of the address, and have availed themselves of such other sources of information as were within their reach. And they find that in June, 1835, certain persons, to the number of five, only one of whom was a travelling preacher, the others being local elders, met and resolved themselves into what they called a General Conference, and elected one of their number to the office of a bishop, and the remaining four proceeded to ordain and set him apart to that office, and immediately held an annual conference, from the Minutes of which it appears that they then numbered twenty-one stationed or travelling preachers, twenty local preachers, and one thousand two hundred and forty-three members of society. It appears there have been additions since, both of preachers and members. In view of all the circumstances, as far as your committee has been able to ascertain and understand them, they are unanimously of opinion that the case requires no interference of this General Conference. All of which is respectfully submitted.

On motion of Martin Ruter:—

Resolved, That the secretary be requested to furnish the brethren from Canada with a copy of the report.

On motion of N. Bangs, the report of the Committee on Missions was called up, together with the proposed amendments to the constitution, for the action of conference. The constitution as amended by this conference, on the recommendation of the Board of Managers, is as follows, viz. :—

ARTICLE I. This association, denominated The Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, is established for the express purpose of enabling the several annual conferences more effectually to extend their missionary labours throughout the United States and elsewhere; and also to assist in the support and promotion of Missionary schools and missions in our own and in foreign countries.

ARTICLE II. The payment of two dollars annually shall constitute a member; the payment of twenty dollars at one time a member for life.

ARTICLE III. The officers of this society shall consist of a president, vice-president, recording secretary, treasurer, and assistant treasurer, who, together with thirty-two managers, shall form a Board for the transaction of business. They shall all be members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and be annually elected by the society. Each annual conference shall have also the privilege of appointing one vice-president from its own body.

ARTICLE IV. There shall also be a resident corresponding secretary appointed by the General Conference, whose salary shall be fixed and paid by the Board of Managers, who shall be exclusively employed in conducting the correspondence of the society, and, under the direction of the Board, in promoting its general interests by travelling or otherwise. With the approbation of the managers, he may employ such assistance from time to time as may be judged necessary for the interests of the cause, the compensation for which shall be fixed by the Board. He shall be ex-officio a member of the Board of Managers. Should his office become vacant by death, resignation or otherwise, the Board shall have power to provide for the duties of the office until the next session of the New-York Conference, which, with the concurrence of the presiding bishop, shall fill the vacancy until the ensuing General Conference.

ARTICLE V. The Board shall have authority to make by-laws for regulating its own proceedings, to appropriate money to defray incidental expenses, and to print books at our own press for the benefit of the Indian and other foreign missions, fill vacancies that may occur during the year, and shall present a statement of its transactions and funds to the society at its annual meeting; and also shall lay before the General Conference a report of its transactions for the four preceding years, and the state of its funds.

The report itself and the amendments offered this morning were then read, and after considerable debate and some other amendments, the following is the report as finally adopted, to wit:—

Report of the Committee on Missions.

The Committee on Missions beg leave to report (in part) that in respect to the cause of missions, it is now too firmly fixed in the affections of our ministers and people, too closely identified with our plan of spreading the Gospel, and has received too many tokens of the divine approbation to need arguments in its defence. Commencing as it did with small beginnings, it has gradually increased in its resources, both pecuniary and otherwise, of doing good, until it has attained that permanence and elevation of character which puts it beyond the reach of successful opposition, while it presents itself to our consideration as a cause to be cherished, supported, and enlarged by all the means within our power.

From the reports of the society for the last four years, it appears that during that time there have been received into the treasury one hundred and forty-four thousand six hundred and twenty-seven dollars and twenty-two cents, and paid for the same period one hundred and fifty-five thousand six hundred and ninety-five dollars and ninety-nine cents, leaving a balance against the society of one thousand sixty-eight dollars and seventy-seven cents.

This, together with the facts respecting the success of those men of God who have been actively engaged in the missionary work which have been spread before the community in the annual reports of the society and through our periodicals, is evidence of the growing interest which is felt in this holy cause, and of a full belief that this society is a powerful auxiliary in extending the Redeemer's kingdom among men. While, therefore, we express our gratitude to God for what he hath wrought by this means, we would devoutly invoke his blessing upon our future efforts.

In taking a view of the missionary field, and considering the means to be used to occupy and cultivate it more effectually, and with greater success, we recommend to the conference the adoption of the following resolutions:—

Resolved, by the delegates of the annual conferences in General Conference assembled, 1. That to the section in the Discipline on the boundaries of the annual conferences, the following clause be added:—"There shall be an annual conference on the western coast of Africa, to be denominated the Liberia Mission Annual Conference, possessing all the rights, powers, and privileges of other annual conferences, except that of sending delegates to the General Conference, and of drawing its annual dividends from the avails of the Book Concern, and of the Chartered Fund."

2. That it be, and hereby is recommended to the bishops, as soon as practicable, to select one missionary or more for Africa, to labour in the interior, under the direction of the president of the Liberia Mission Annual Conference.

3. That as considerable sums of money have been already contributed for the establishment of a mission in China, it is recommended to the bishops, as soon as it shall appear to them safe and practicable, to select and send some suitable person or persons to that country, whose duty it shall be to visit as many of the principal places as he may find accessible, and as may be in his power, and report from time to time the state of things there, in respect to the feasibility of establishing missions under our direction in that empire.

4. At the end of the answer to question four, chapter one, section eight, part one of the Discipline, let there be inserted the following words: "N. B. Whenever a preacher on trial is selected by the bishops for a mission, he may, if elected by an annual conference, ordain him a deacon before his probation ends, and a missionary employed on a foreign mission may be admitted into full connexion, if recommended by the superintendents of the mission where he labours, without being present at the annual conference for examination."

5. That at each annual conference, those who are received on trial or admitted into full connexion shall be asked whether they are willing to devote themselves to the missionary work, and a list of the names of all those who are willing to do so, shall be taken and reported to the Corresponding Secretary of the Missionary Society; and all such shall be considered as ready and willing to be employed as missionaries whenever called for by either of the bishops.

6. That it shall be the duty of all of our missionaries, except those who are appointed to labour for the benefit of the slaves, to form their circuits into auxiliary missionary societies, and to make regular quarterly and class collections wherever practicable, and report the amount collected every three months, either by endorsing it on their drafts, or by transmitting the money to the treasurer of the parent society.

7. It shall be the duty of each annual conference to examine strictly into the state of the domestic missions within its bounds, and to allow none to remain on the list of its missions, which, in the judgment of the conference, is able to support itself.

The Committee on Missions report that they have considered the fourth article of the revised constitution of the Missionary Society, and beg leave to recommend that there be inserted in the Discipline, part two, section seven, at the close of the section, the following words: "The resident Corresponding Secretary shall, by virtue of his office, be a member of the New-York Conference, to which, in the interval of the General Conference, he shall be held responsible for his conduct; and the New-York Conference shall have power, by and with the advice of the managers of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and consent of the bishop presiding, to remove him from office; and in case of removal, death, or resignation, the New-York Conference, with the concurrence of the presiding bishop, shall fill the vacancy until the next ensuing General Conference.

As to the duties of said secretary, and the mode of his receiving his support, the committee think them sufficiently defined in the article itself, which they again recommend for adoption. (See fourth article, revised constitution.) They however recommend the words, "resident Corresponding Secretary" to be inserted in the Discipline, chapter one, section three, between the words "journal" and "the." The committee recommend, also, the adoption of the following:

Resolved, That it shall be the duty of the bishops to instruct all our foreign missionaries, that whenever they come in contact with any of the missionaries belonging to the Wesleyan Methodist Conference, they shall not interfere in their respective charges, any further than to help them in their work when requested, but shall, on all occasions, cultivate a spirit of friendship and brotherly affection as brethren engaged in the same common cause, namely, the salvation of the world through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ.

Resolved, That our representative to the Wesleyan Methodist Conference be instructed by the bishops to present this subject to said conference, and to communicate to them the sentiments contained in the above resolution, and to assure them of our cordial coöperation with them in striving to extend the Redeemer's kingdom among men by means of missionary enterprises.

Resolved, That it be respectfully suggested to the Board of Managers of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the expediency of recommending to the next General Conference, the adoption of the following as a substitute for the last article of the constitution of the Missionary Society, viz.:—

This constitution shall not be altered but by the General Conference, upon the recommendation of the Board of Managers or by the society at an annual meeting upon the recommendation of the General Conference.

Conference adjourned until to-morrow morning at eight o'clock.

Report of Committee on Canada Affairs.

The chairman of the Committee on Canada affairs, to whom their former report was re-committed, presented and read their report, which, after considerable debate, and a fair and full discussion, was adopted, as follows:—

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CANADA AFFAIRS, ADOPTED MAY 19TH, 1836.

The committee to whom was referred the communication from the Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in British North America, beg leave to report:—

Your committee have given a serious, and, they trust, a candid attention to the document referred to them. They have invited before them the president of the Canada Conference, the Rev. William Lord, and the delegate from Canada, the Rev. William Case, and have listened with pleasure to their remarks, and perused with close attention a communication purporting to set forth the grounds of these claims. But inasmuch as the last General Conference did distinctly avow that constitutional restrictions prohibited their action, and proceeded to lay the question before the several annual conferences, in order to obtain the decision of these primary bodies upon the subject, your committee were admonished that the task devolving upon them is limited to this single consideration, viz., Have the annual con ferences determined against the claims of the Canada Conference?

This point is determined by the votes of all the annual conferences, which, being properly authenticated, and having been carefully considered and examined, stand as follows:— In favour of concurring with the General Conference of 1832, five hundred and ninety-nine; against concurring, seven hundred and fifty-eight. Whole number of votes taken, one thousand three hundred and fifty-seven. This statement shows that instead of three-fourths of the votes being in favour of obviating the constitutional restriction, as the Discipline in such cases requires, a large majority have decided against it. And this decision your committee regard as final and conclusive against these claims.

But inasmuch as the General Conference have ever claimed and exercised the right to regulate the discount at which wholesale purchasers may buy our books, and with a view to an amicable and final arrangement of all the difficulties which have existed on this subject, and especially with a sincere desire to go as far as justice to the Methodist Episcopal Church will authorize, to encourage and perpetuate the friendly and fraternal feelings which should ever exist between the different members of the great Methodist family, the committee submit to the consideration, and for the adoption of the General Conference, the following arrangement, mutually agreed to by the delegates from Canada and the Book Agents, and which we are assured will be satisfactory to our Canadian brethren, if sanctioned by their conference:—

Whereas, the Canada Conference, now in connexion with the Wesleyan Methodists of Great Britain, was formerly united to, and formed part of, the Methodist Episcopal Church; and whereas the union which, by mutual consent, then subsisted, was dissolved at the earnest and repeated solicitation of the ministers and members of the Church in Canada, which was definitely determined upon by an act of the Canada Conference, who thereupon and subsequently did form a union with, and became a part of the Wesleyan Methodist connexion; and whereas there has been a difference of opinion between the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Canada Conference in regard to the claim which has been urged by the Canada Conference, of an interest in, and a portion of the Methodist Book Concern; and whereas the decision of the several annual conferences to whom the subject was referred by the General Conference of 1832 has been adverse to the claim of the Canada Conference, and has thereby precluded any further action of the General Conference, on the ground of claim, as made by the Canada Conference; but whereas this General Conference cherishes an affectionate remembrance of the Canada brethren, and is desirous to manifest its fraternal regard in every suitable way; and whereas the Canada Conference did, at its last session, appoint its president the Rev. William Lord, and the Rev. Egerton Ryerson, delegates to this General Conference, to negotiate its claims on the Book Concern, and the Rev. William Case having been duly appointed to take the place of Rev. E. Ryerson in the negotiation; and whereas the said Rev. William Lord, president of the Canada Conference, and the Rev. William Case, have full powers to bring to an amicable termination the question pending between the two connexions, therefore, it is hereby declared to be mutually understood and agreed that the following plan shall be considered as an arrangement for the full and final adjustment and settlement of the matter at issue between the Canada Conference and the Methodist Episcopal Church, to wit: The Agents of the Methodist Book Concern shall furnish to the Book steward of the Canada Conference, any of the books which may be issued from its press at the following rates, subject to the conditions and provisos hereinafter named:—

1. The general Alphabetical Catalogue books, whether in sheets or bound, shall be sold at forty per cent discount from the retail prices, as long as the present discount of one-third shall be made to wholesale purchasers; but should this discount be hereafter changed to one-quarter, and in that case the books sold to the Book Steward of the Canada Conference shall be charged at a discount of one-third from the retail prices which shall from time to time be affixed to them respectively, provided that this discount shall not apply to such books as may be reduced below the usual prices on account of rival publishers; and provided, also, that the Canada Conference shall give satisfactory security in regard to the payment of any debt which may be contracted with the Methodist Book Concern, within one year from the time such debt may be created. And it is also expressly understood and agreed, that no interest shall be demanded or paid on any such debt, unless payment should be delayed beyond the period of credit before named, in which event interest shall be charged and paid, from and after the expiration of said credit term. It is also provided, that all books which may be ordered by the Book Steward of the Canada Conference shall be at the risk and expense of the said conference from the time they shall be forwarded from the Methodist Book Concern.

2. Sunday-school books and tracts shall be furnished to the Book Steward of the Canada Conference at a premium of eighteen per cent, to be paid in General Catalogue books, at retail prices, and it is hereby declared to be understood and agreed, that the same provisions and conditions are to be

On motion of D. Ostrander, the second report of the Committee on the Book Concern was taken up, read, and adopted, as follows:—

FRIDAY, MAY 20.

May 20.

Conference met according to adjournment, Bishop Roberts in the chair.

The chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary reported that the petition of J. L. Bromwell, which had been referred to them, did not properly belong to them, and on motion, it was referred to the Committee on Itinerancy.

Bromwell's petition referred to Committee on Itinerancy

The chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary presented and read a report on the petitions from the Westmoreland and Lancaster circuit, which was adopted, as follows :—

May 20.
Report of the Committee on the Judiciary on Slavery
continued.

The Judiciary Committee, to whom was referred the petition of the official members of the Methodist Episcopal Church on Lancaster circuit, Baltimore Conference, report, that the petition referred to them is an able document, drawn up in the most respectful language, and signed by twenty-nine individuals, who claim to be official members of the Methodist Episcopal Church on Lancaster circuit.

The petitioners first invite the attention of the General Conference to the section of the Discipline which states that "no slave-holder shall be eligible to any official station in our Church hereafter, when the laws of the state in which he lives will admit of emancipation and permit the liberated slave to enjoy freedom," &c. They then produce an extract of the laws from the commonwealth of Virginia, showing their extreme rigour in this matter,— "that any emancipated slave (with exceptions too rare to be looked for in one case out of many) remaining in the commonwealth more than twelve months after his or her right to freedom shall have arrived, contrary to the provisions of this act, shall be sold by the overseers of the poor, in any county in which he or she may be found, for the benefit of the literary fund." In view of this "Act," they claim that they, as official members, are protected by the Discipline of the Church, as they deem it to be precisely one of the exceptions to the general rule provided for in the Discipline: and especially as under the existing laws of the commonwealth to emancipate their slaves would, in many cases, be an act of cruelty to their slaves themselves.

The matter of complaint by the petitioners is, that the construction put upon this rule by the Baltimore Annual Conference, in certain acts, respecting individuals connected with this section of the work, is subversive of their rights and oppressive in its bearings; that they require the same submission to the rule of persons in that state, as of those in sections where the legal disability to comply with it does not exist, regardless of the exceptions. And they respectfully solicit the interference of the General Conference, either to revise the rule, or give it such construction as to afford them relief in the premises, or finally, if neither be done, to cause them to be set off to the Virginia Conference.

It is due to the Baltimore Conference to say, that the cases referred to as evidence of their improper application of their rule, are stated in terms too vague and indefinite to authorize the inference drawn by the petitioners. It is represented that a young man applying to be received into the itinerancy is prevented by application of this rule,—that it is in vain for him to urge upon a majority of the conference the impracticability of his complying with the rule, in consequence of the laws under which he lives, or any other consideration in favour of his being received ; because he will not comply with the rule, he must be rejected. The same, it is assumed by the petitioners, is done with respect to those who apply for ordination. And it is inferred by them, that if the conference act consistently, stewards and leaders may be expected soon to be called upon to comply with the rule, or forfeit their official standing in the Church.

Your committee view this subject in a very different light. In admitting a preacher to travel, or electing one to orders, a conference must have the right to act freely ; and in cases which are not successful, it is wholly an assumption, on the part of the applicants or their friends, to say what particular considerations dictated the vote, unless such considerations be distinctly avowed by a majority of the conference. And it is known to all conversant with the transactions of an annual conference, that no person applying to be received or ordained ever enters as a party before the conference, pleading his own cause, and hearing and answering the objections which may be urged against his application. Any act of a conference, then, in these cases, cannot be justly urged as evidence that the conference denies the party concerned the benefit of the special provision in the rule. A conference, or other deliberative bodies, possesses, and in the nature of the case must possess, the right to determine its own course, and vote freely in all such individual cases. Your committee, therefore, cannot see that the privileges claimed by the petitioners have been contravened by an act of the Baltimore Conference.

Having said this much respecting the alleged grounds of grievance, your committee agree in the opinion that the exceptions to the general rule in the Discipline, referred to by the petitioners, clearly apply to official members of the Church in Virginia, according to the laws of the commonwealth, and do therefore protect them against a forfeiture of their official standing on account of said rule.

In addition to the petition of the official members of Lancaster Circuit, a resolution of a quarterly conference of Westmoreland Circuit has been referred to your committee, by which it appears that the members of said conference concurred in said petition.

Should the General Conference agree in the opinions stated by the committee in the report, it is respectfully recommended that after adopting it, they cause a copy of it to be forwarded to the official members in each of the above-named circuits. All which is respectfully submitted.

Your committee would further recommend the adoption of the following resolution:—

Resolved, That all moneys which have been or may hereafter be collected on the several circuits or stations, for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the delegates to this General Conference, and which have not come to hand, be forwarded to the Agents of the Book Concern to aid the funds of that institution.

A motion to reconsider the fourth resolution was voted and carried, and the word "two" was stricken out, and the word "three" again inserted. The whole report, as amended, was then adopted, as follows:—

Episcopal report called up and acted upon.

The Committee on the Episcopacy beg leave to report.

Report of the Committee on Episcopacy.

After a minute and particular examination of the labours and administration of our government by the episcopacy, your committee find nothing to condemn, but much to approve. Their labours during the last four years have been both arduous and difficult, and their attention to duty such as merits the decided approbation of your committee.

Your committee recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:—

Resolved, 1. That it is a violation of a rule of discipline for a bishop to continue a preacher in a station or circuit for more than two years, notwithstanding the station may be divided into two or more stations or circuits.

Resolved, 2. That it is inconsistent with the genius of Methodism to continue a preacher for many years in succession in the same part of the work, and, therefore, the bishops are advised not to continue any preacher for many years in succession in the same city, town, or district.

Resolved, 3. That it is expedient at this time to strengthen the episcopacy, by electing and ordaining three additional bishops.

Your committee have had under consideration the resolutions of the managers of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, submitting the memorial of the official members of our Church in Western Africa, in which they ask the appointment of a bishop to reside in that country, and recommend the adoption of the following resolutions, viz. :—

Resolved, 1. That it is inexpedient, at present, to appoint a bishop for Western Africa.

Resolved, 2. That it be recommended to our episcopacy to select one of their number to visit our work in Western Africa, in the course of the ensuing four years, if they judge proper and convenient: and in the event of such visitation to Africa, the Treasurer of the Missionary Society of the

May 20.

Methodist Episcopal Church is hereby authorized to pay the expenses of such visitation.

All which is respectfully submitted,

JOHN EARLY, Chairman.

CINCINNATI, May 13, 1836.

On motion of John Early :—

Release of Bishop Soule from effective service for four years to come.

Resolved, That whereas Bishop Soule has assured this conference, and we are fully convinced that his want of health, and the infirm state of his constitution, will not justify an attempt in him to do effective service in the episcopacy, therefore resolved, that he be at full liberty to pursue such a course as he may think best during the ensuing four years, for the improvement of his health, and to prolong his useful life, affording, in the mean time, all the service he can, as a joint superintendent or bishop in our Church.

On motion of William Winans :—

Release of Bishop Roberts for the same length of time.

Resolved, That whereas Bishop Roberts has assured this conference, and we are fully convinced that his want of health, and the infirm state of his constitution will not justify an attempt in him to do effective service in the episcopacy, therefore resolved, that he be at full liberty to pursue such a course as he may think best during the ensuing four years, for the improvement of his health, and to prolong his useful life, affording, in the mean time, all the service he can, as a joint superintendent or bishop in our Church.

On motion of S. Martindale, the report of the Committee on Temperance was called up. The first resolution was then read, and the subject debated until an adjournment was called for.

Report of Committee on Slavery.

The committee to whom were referred sundry memorials from the north, praying that certain rules on the subject of slavery, which formerly existed in our book of Discipline, should be restored, and that the General Conference take such measures as they may deem proper to free the Church from the evil of slavery, beg leave to report :

That they have had the subject under serious consideration, and are of opinion that the prayers of the memorialists cannot be granted, believing that it would be highly improper for the General Conference to take any action that would alter or change our rules on the subject of slavery. Your committee, therefore, respectfully submit the following resolution :—

On motion of N. Bangs :—

Resolved, That the Book Committee and Book Agents at New-York shall have authority to employ additional help in the editorial department until the editors are ready to enter upon their work.

Authority to Book Agents to obtain help until editors arrive in New-York.

On motion, resolved that a pamphlet, circulated among the members of this conference, purporting to be an "Address to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, by a member of that body," containing reports of the discussion on modern abolitionism, palpably false, and calculated to make an impression to the injury of the character of some of the members engaged in the aforesaid discussion, is an outrage on the dignity of this body, and meriting unqualified reprehension.

Resolution respecting a publication.

J. STAMPER.

It was moved and carried, that the above resolution be laid over until to-morrow.

Laid over until to-morrow.

Orange Scott avowed himself to be the author of the pamphlet above alluded to, and as he considered himself under obligations to defend himself, requested a copy of the above resolution, which, on motion, was granted.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 25.

May 25.

Conference met according to adjournment, Bishop Hedding in the chair.

The chairman of the Committee on Revision presented and read a report, which, on motion, was adopted, as follows :—

Your committee were directed to prepare a note explanatory of the word "catholic," as found in our baptismal service on page one hundred and nine, chapter three, section two. They offer the following, to be appended in a note on the bottom of the page where the said word occurs, viz. :—"By holy catholic Church, is meant, The Church of God in general."

Report of Committee on Revision as adopted.

Your committee were also required to so amend the proviso which permits a bishop to appoint a preacher for more than two years in one place, as to include in its provisions the Book Concern at Cincinnati. Accordingly they recom-

MAY 25th, 1836.

The reports recommitted for the purpose of being transcribed were returned to the secretary, and are as follows, viz. :—

The Committee on Revisal who were directed to report to the secretary such amendments as the conference had adopted, as recommended in their former reports, do now report as follows :—

CHAPTER I, SECTION IX.

The ninth answer to question one shall be so amended as to read thus :—

9. To take an exact account of the members in society in their respective circuits and stations, keeping the names of all local elders, deacons, and preachers properly distinguished, and deliver in such accounts to the annual conference, that their number may be printed in the Minutes.

CHAPTER I, SECTION XV.

The seventh answer is amended so as to read, after the words, "as his other duties will allow," "the course of instruction shall not only embrace the nature of experimental religion, but also the nature, design, privileges, and obligations of their baptism."

"8. To appoint a suitable leader for each class, who shall instruct them in his absence, and recommend to the preacher such among them as he may think suitable to be received among us on trial. The preacher shall leave his successor a correct account of each class thus formed, with the name of its leader."

"9. To preach expressly on education. 'But I have no gift for this.' Pray earnestly for the gift, and use every other means to obtain it."

CHAPTER I, SECTION XX.

Question 1. What directions shall be given concerning local preachers?

Answer 1. The quarterly meeting conference shall take cognizance of all local preachers in the circuit or station, and shall inquire into the gift to labours and usefulness of each preacher by name.

2. The quarterly conference shall have authority to license proper persons to preach, and renew their license annually, whenever, in the judgment of said conference, their gifts, grace, and usefulness will warrant such renewal; to recommend suitable candidates to the annual conference for deacon's or elder's orders in the local connexion for admission on trial in the travelling connexion, and to try, suspend, expel, or acquit any local preacher in the circuit or station against whom charges may be brought; provided that no person shall be licensed to preach without the recommendation of the society of which he is a member, or of a leader's meeting. Nor shall any one be licensed to preach, or recommended to the annual conference to travel, or for ordination, without first being examined in the quarterly conference on the subject of doctrines and discipline.

3. A licensed local preacher shall be eligible to the office of a deacon, after he has preached four years from the time he received a regular license, and has obtained a testimonial from the quarterly conference, after proper examination, signed by the president, and countersigned by the secretary; and after his character has passed in examination before, and he has obtained the approbation of the annual conference.

4. A local deacon shall be eligible to the office of elder after he has preached four years from the time he was ordained a deacon, and has obtained a recommendation from the quarterly conference of which he is member certifying his qualifications in doctrine, discipline, talents, and usefulness, signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary. He shall, if he cannot attend, send to the annual conference such recommendation, and a note certifying his belief in the doctrine and discipline of our Church, the whole being examined by the annual conference, and if approved he may be ordained: provided, nevertheless, that no slaveholder shall be eligible to the office of an elder or deacon where the law will admit of emancipation, and permit the liberated slave to enjoy freedom.

5. Every local elder, deacon, and preacher shall have his name recorded on the journal of the quarterly conference of which he is a member, and also enrolled on a class paper, and meet in class if the distance of his place of residence from any class be not too great; or in neglect thereof, the quarterly conference, if they judge it proper, may deprive him of his ministerial office.

Whenever any elder, deacon, or preacher shall remove from one circuit or station to another, he shall procure from the presiding elder of the district, or from the preacher having charge, a certificate of his official standing in the Church at the time of his removal, without which he shall not be received as a local preacher in other places.

No elder, deacon, or preacher among us shall distil or vend spirituous liquors without forfeiting his official standing.

vival continu-

Question 2. What shall be done when a local elder, deacon, or preacher is reported to be guilty of some crime expressly forbidden in the word of God, sufficient to exclude a person from the kingdom of grace and glory?

Answer 1. The preacher having charge shall call a committee, consisting of three or more local preachers, before whom it shall be the duty of the accused to appear, and by whom he shall be acquitted, or if found guilty, suspended until the next quarterly conference; and the preacher in charge shall cause exact minutes of the charges, testimony, and examination, together with the decision of the committee, to be laid before the quarterly conference, where it shall be the duty of the accused to appear; and the president shall, at the commencement of the trial, appoint a secretary, who shall take down regular minutes, and when read and approved shall be signed by the president, and also by the members of the conference who are present, or a majority of them. And in case of condemnation, the local preacher, deacon, or elder shall be allowed to appeal to the next annual conference, provided that he signify to the said quarterly conference his determination to appeal, in which case the said president shall lay the minutes of the trial above mentioned before the said annual conference at which the local preacher, deacon, or elder, so appealing, may appear; and the said annual conference shall judge and finally determine from the minutes of the said trial so laid before them.

2. When a local elder or deacon shall be expelled, the presiding elder shall require of him the credentials of his ordination, to be filed with the papers of the annual conference within the limits of which the expulsion has taken place; and should he at any future time produce to the annual conference a certificate of his restoration, signed by the president, and countersigned by the secretary of the quarterly conference, his credentials may be restored to him.

Question 3. What shall be done in case of improper tempers, words, or actions?

Answer. The person so offending shall be rebuked by the preacher having charge. Should a second transgression take place, one, two, or three faithful friends are to be taken as witnesses. If he be not then cured, he shall be tried at the next quarterly conference, and if found guilty and impenitent he shall be expelled from the Church.

CHAPTER II, SECTION VI.

The answer shall be so amended as to read,—

Answer. By all means. This is no time to give encouragement to superfluity of apparel; therefore, receive none into the Church till they have left off superfluous ornaments. In order to this, 1. Let every one who has charge of a circuit or station read Mr. Wesley's Thoughts upon Dress, at least once a year in every society. 2. In visiting the classes be very mild, but very strict. 3. Allow of no exempt case. Better one suffer than many. 4. Give no tickets to any that wear high heads, enormous bonnets, ruffles, or rings.

Answer 1. Let none be received into the Church until they are recommended by a leader with whom they have met at least six months on trial, and have been baptized.

Answer 2. Let none be admitted on trial except they are well recommended by one you know, or until they have met twice or thrice in a class.

In the same section the answer to the fourth question is so amended as to read thus:—

Answer. The official minister or preacher shall, at every quarterly meeting, read the names of those that are received into the Church, and also those that are excluded therefrom.

In the same section the second answer to question five is so amended as to read thus:—

2. If they do not amend, let him who has the charge of the circuit or station bring their case before the society or a select number, before whom they shall have been cited to appear; and if they be found guilty of wilful neglect, by the decision of a majority of the members before whom their case is brought, let them be laid aside; and let the preacher show that they are excluded for a breach of our rules, and not for immoral conduct.

CHAPTER II, SECTION V.

The following were ordered to be stricken out of second and third answer to question two.

2. Let him declare whoever does this will be put back on trial.

3. When any such is put back on trial, let a suitable exhortation be subjoined. And the figure 4 which follows be changed to figure 2. And also the words with which the section closes be stricken out, viz.:—

“And even in a doubtful case the member shall be put back on trial.”

CHAPTER I, SECTION XVIII,

Is amended by adding at its close as follows:—

And after such form of trial and expulsion, the person so expelled shall have no privileges of society or sacraments in our Church without confession, contrition, and proper trial.

A preacher on trial who may be accused of crime shall be accountable to the quarterly conference of the circuit on which he travels. The presiding elder shall call a committee of three local preachers, who may suspend him, and the quarterly conference may expel him. Nevertheless, he shall have a right to an appeal to the next annual conference.

When any travelling elder or deacon is deprived of his credentials by expulsion or otherwise, they shall be filed with the papers of the annual conference of which he was a member. And should he at any future time give satisfactory evidence to said conference of his amendment, and procure a certificate of the quarterly conference of the circuit or station where he resides, or of an annual conference, who may have admitted him on trial, recommending to the annual conference of which he was a member formerly the restoration of his credentials, the said conference may restore them.

Your Committee on the Allowance of Ministers, having had the various subjects presented to their attention by your order under consideration, would beg leave to report in part as follows, that in their opinion it would be inexpedient at the present time to make any alteration as to the amount of allowance as now set forth in the Discipline. They would, however, respectfully present to your consideration the propriety of striking out in part two, section four, the first, second, fourth, and fifth rules, and the insertion of the following, viz.: 1. were proposed and adopted, and the several resolutions, as amended, were adopted, all of which the report will show. In view of the several subjects already mentioned, and of others which we have found too numerous to be conveniently placed in the body of this report, your committee recommend for adoption by this conference the following resolutions:—

Resolved, by the delegates of the several annual conferences in General Conference assembled, 1. That the first and second divisions in the eighth section of the Discipline, part second, be stricken out, and the following paragraphs inserted in their place:—

3. That the sixth division of the eighth section, part one, be stricken out of the Discipline, and that the following be substituted in its place:—

6. There shall be an establishment of the Book Concern in the city of Cincinnati, under the superintendence of an agent and an assistant, who shall so manage the business in the western country as to coöperate with the agents at New-York. They shall have authority to publish any book in our catalogue when, in their judgment and that of the Book Committee, it shall be advantageous to the interests of the Church, provided that they shall not publish type editions of such books as are stereotyped in New-York. And there shall be an editor and an assistant, who shall have charge of the Western Christian Advocate, and all the editorial business of this establishment, and who, together with the agent and assistant agent, shall be chosen from among the travelling preachers, and, by virtue of their

The Book Committee for the establishment shall consist of seven members, including the editors, to be chosen annually by the Ohio Annual Conference, and whose duties shall be the same as those of the Book Committee at New-York. And the proceeds of this establishment, with the exception of what may be necessary to conduct the business, shall be paid annually to the agents at New-York, to be added to the profits arising from that Concern, and appropriated for the same purposes. In case of removal, by death, resignation, or otherwise, of the agents or editors, or any of them, the Ohio Annual Conference shall have authority to appoint a successor until the ensuing General Conference.

7. That the discount on the prices of our books, and the general terms of sale, shall be continued as they have been during the last four years.

8. That the Christian Advocate and Journal shall be circulated as formerly among the travelling preachers, who are expected to act as agents for it.

9. That the Methodist Magazine and Quarterly Review be continued; and that the editors shall be authorized, with the advice of the Book Committee, to employ suitable persons, at a fair compensation, for the purpose of supplying proper materials, and giving the work an elevated character.

provided, that before any such paper shall be commenced three thousand subscribers shall be obtained, or subscriptions amounting to six thousand dollars. And the annual conference within whose bounds such paper shall be established shall appoint from their own members a publishing committee, consisting of three, whose duties shall be similar to those of the Book Committee of New-York and Cincinnati, so far as they may be applicable to those establishments.

11. That the editors for the papers at Charleston and Nashville shall be elected by this conference, and that the Virginia Conference be, and hereby is authorized to elect an editor for the paper at Richmond until the next General Conference. 12. That the Publishing Committees in each of these establishments shall keep an account of the receipts and expenditures for the paper, correspond with the agents at New-York, hold all moneys, after defraying current expenses, subject to their order, and shall report annually on the state of the establishment to their conference, and to the agents at New-York. And whenever it shall be found that such papers do not fully support themselves, it shall be the duty of the annual conferences within whose bounds they are established to discontinue them.

13. That the annual conferences be affectionately and earnestly requested not to establish any more conference papers; and that where such papers exist, they may be discontinued when it can be done consistently with existing obligations.

14. That it is inexpedient to establish any new depositories of books at present; but if, in the interval of the General Conference, the presiding bishop of any annual conference shall concur with said conference in opinion that it is expedient to establish a bookstore within their bounds, in such case the agents both in New-York and Cincinnati shall have authority to sell books to such conference bookstore, at a discount of forty per centum, without involving any pecuniary responsibility on the part of the Book Concern.

15. That the salaries for the support of editors and agents in all our book and periodical establishments shall be fixed by the Book or Publishing Committees in the several places for which such editors and agents are appointed.

16. That a certain claim against the estate of our late brother Askins, of the Illinois Conference, in favour of the Book Concern, in consequence of the loss of some of the books for which he was charged, and the poverty of his orphan children, be relinquished, and the debt forgiven.

21. That James Quinn be exonerated from the payment of $68, which were lost in the old connexion business, and which has been recommended by both the Book Committee at Cincinnati and the Ohio Annual Conference.

22. That the Book Agents at Cincinnati be instructed and authorized to settle with T. L. Douglass, and allow him a credit for old books lost or taken out of boxes forwarded to him, as the papers and vouchers in his possession will show.

23. That for the purpose of securing the property belonging to the Book Concern more firmly to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Agents at New-York and Cincinnati be authorized and directed to obtain, if practicable, an act of incorporation, and to take such other steps as may be deemed advisable for the accomplishment of this object.

24. That our friends in numerous places, who have manifested so deep an interest, and displayed so much liberality in favour of the Book Concern, are entitled to the thanks of this conference ; and that it shall be the duty of the presiding elders and preachers in charge throughout the Union, where it has not already been done, to bring the subject of the late disaster and loss which this institution has sustained fully before our people, giving them an opportunity to do as others have done, in order to its reestablishment.

M. RUTER, Chairman.

Resolved, That members of this conference who break the twelfth rule of the conference by leaving without permission, shall be held answerable for so doing to their respective annual conferences. Signed, E. Robinson, S. Comfort.

On motion, the secretary was instructed to forward a copy of the above resolution to the several annual conferences.

On motion, the report of the committee appointed to determine the tribunal of non-resident superannuated preachers, was called up, read, and adopted, to wit:—

The committee to whom was referred the question relating to the trial of superannuated preachers living out of the bounds of the conference of which they are members, beg leave to report, that having taken the subject into consideration, are of opinion that such cases would be attended with great inconvenience and embarrassment, for want of a sufficiently explicit rule in the Discipline. We therefore recommend the following amendment to chapter one, section eighteen, at the end of the first paragraph in the answer to question one, viz.: "And if the accused be a superannuated preacher living out of the bounds of the conference of which he is a member, the presiding elder in whose district he may reside, shall bring him to trial, and, in case of suspension, shall forward to the ensuing annual conference of which the accused is a member, exact minutes of the charges, testimony and decision of the committee in the case." All of which is respectfully submitted.

Revisal report.

The chairman of the Committee on Revisal presented and read a report, which, according to rule, lies on the table one day.

On motion, the report of the Judiciary Committee to whom the appeals of William Heath, Samuel Helms, and Samuel Julien were referred, was called up.

The report was read, several amendments proposed, and considerable time spent in debate on the business. The report was finally amended and adopted as follows, to wit:—

Report of Judiciary Commit-
appeals.

The Judiciary Committee to whom were referred the communications of W. Heath, S. Helms, and S. Julien, (the first of the Missouri Annual Conference, the second of the Kentucky, and the last of the Indiana Conference,) complaining of injustice done them by their several conferences, in locating them without their consent, report, that they have examined these communications in connexion with the Discipline of the Church, and have come to the following conclusions, viz. :—

1. That the Discipline does not prohibit an annual conference from locating one of its members without his consent.

2. That there is no provision in the Discipline authorizing a person so located to appeal to the General Conference, nor for any process by which to conduct an appeal in such a case; and that the brethren concerned have, therefore, no legal ground to claim a privilege for which the Discipline under whose regulations they entered the itinerant field has made no provision.

3. Your committee believe, moreover, that when it is rendered evident to the satisfaction of an annual conference, that one of its members habitually neglects those duties which he engages, on entering the itinerancy, to perform, while in the estimation of the conference he is able to perform them, or otherwise conducts himself in a manner which, though not absolutely criminal in itself, nevertheless renders him unacceptable to the people, and destroys his usefulness among them, he ought to be located, and that provision ought to be made in the Discipline for that purpose. They therefore recommend the adoption of the following, to be inserted as a fourth question, and its answer, immediately after the answer to the third question of the eighteenth section of chapter one of the Discipline on fifty-fourth page.

Question 4. What shall be done with a member of an annual conference who conducts himself in a manner which renders him unacceptable to the people as a travelling preacher?

Answer. When any member of an annual conference shall be charged with having so conducted himself as to render him unacceptable to the people as a travelling preacher, it shall be the duty of the conference to which he belongs to investigate the case, and if it appear that the complaint is well founded, and he does not give the conference satisfaction that he will amend, or voluntarily retire, they may locate him without his consent, provided that he shall be at liberty to defend himself before the conference in person, or by his representative; and if he be located in his absence without having been previously notified of an intention then to proceed against him, he may apply to the conference at its next session, to be heard in his defence, in which case they shall reconsider the matter for that purpose.

Further report of Missionary
Committee on South America.

The chairman of the Committee on Missions presented and read a report, which was adopted, to wit:—

The Mission Committee beg leave to report further, that they have had an interview with brother Fountain E. Pitts, respecting the state of things in South America. From the information received from him, as well as from other sources, it appears that there are most encouraging openings for missionary labour in that country, and that brother Pitts has succeeded in securing the confidence and protection of the government of Buenos Ayres, as well as establishing a mission at Rio de Janeiro, in the Brazilian republic. At Buenos Ayres there are, it seems, not less than ten thousand Protestants but partially supplied with the means of grace, and that here a Methodist society has been formed, and a house of worship commenced. At the Leopold settlement there is a Dutch colony, consisting of about seven thousand colonists, to whom the Gospel should be sent. At this place and Rio Janeiro there are about two thousand who understand the English language, now supplied by a missionary from us, brother Justin Spaulding, and that there are about two thousand at Montevideo. These facts induce us to believe that a promising field for labour is opened in South America, therefore,

Resolved, That the bishops be and are hereby requested to select two additional missionaries or more for South America, to labour at such places as the bishop or bishops appointing them may direct.

N. BANGS, Chairman.

The chairman of the select committee to whom was referred the subject of obtaining an act of incorporation for our Book Concern, presented and read a report, which was adopted, to wit:—

Report of Committee on Act of Incorporation for Book Concern.

The committee to whom was referred the twenty-third resolution in the report of the Committee on the Book Concern, report:—

That they have examined the opinions of three eminent lawyers, to whom were submitted sundry questions in relation to the manner in which the property of the Book Concern is held in the city of New-York, and, taking these opinions as a guide, we recommend to the conference the adoption of the following resolutions:—

Resolved, 1. That the surviving joint-tenant, the Rev. Beverly Waugh, be, and he is hereby requested, to convey, under the advice of able legal counsel, the real estate which he now holds, in trust, for the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, to the Revs. Thomas Mason and George Lane, as joint-tenants, and not tenants in common, in trust for the sole use and benefit of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

May 27.

Resolved, 2. That the said Thomas Mason and George Lane be, and they are hereby directed to apply to the next legislature of the state of New-York for such an act of incorporation as shall secure the real estate in the city of New-York, belonging to the Methodist Book Concern, to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, to be used and applied as the Discipline of said Church shall from time to time prescribe.

Resolved, 3. That the Book Agents at Cincinnati be, and they are hereby instructed, that whenever it is thought advisable, in conformity with a resolution passed at the present session of this conference, to purchase a lot for the purpose of erecting buildings for the Branch of the Book Concern at Cincinnati, to take measures for securing the premises legally to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, to be used and applied as the Discipline of said Church shall from time to time direct.

Respectfully submitted,

N. BANGS, Chairman.
